Laguna Can't Promote Vote With Its Funds

Future School Construction Hinges on Balloting

By LOIS McNALLY

Although greatly concerned over the future of the school bond issue due to go before voters for the second time June 25, Laguna Salada school trustees have been told they cannot actively campaign for it.

That is, they can do so only as "individuals," not as board members.

Superintendent Frederick Lucas said the district attorney has informed the school district that it cannot legally spend any more funds in support of the $600,000 bond issue and $6-million state loan authorization.

If any campaign material is to be distributed, it should be done by a citizen's committee with donations from private sources, Lucas said the district has been told.

Several citizens have volunteered to undertake a door-to-door campaign on behalf of the bond issue, he said.

Board chairman Ruth Boudinot, who proposed sending a letter to community leaders urging endorsement of the bond issue, was told by the district attorney that the letter could be sent by her as an individual — but not officially from the board.

Mrs. Boudinot says as a citizen she intends to travel around her Edgemar - Pacific Manor neighborhood to help residents understand what is needed.

Emphasizing there will be "no increase in local property taxes," Mrs. Boudinot says the threat of double sessions is real as school population increases and no more schools are built.

Unless the bond issue and state loan authorization passes, there will be no more building after July 1 in the Laguna Salada district.

Fairmont school would be the last school to be built, Mrs. Boudinot points out. There will be no more schools built to house the rapidly-increasing Fairmont subdivision school population nor the children from the new Portola Heights tract on Skyline.

These children would have to fit into the present Laguna Salada schools, which do not have room for them without double sessions, officials say.

By a year from September, warns Mrs. Boudinot, "we will have sufficient crowding to require double sessions." And she adds:

"No one area would be spared, we will double session across the board in all schools, not just the overcrowded areas."

Laguna Salada schools went completely off double sessions for the first time only this year.

It takes two years to build a school, Mrs. Boudinot explains. A year is needed to locate, purchase, grade and prepare the site, draw plans and get state approval for the school, and go to bid.

The tax rate will remain at 45 cents per $100 assessed valuation, the maximum allowable by law. State funds are repaid only after local bonds are retired.

Praise for Safety Program

A Certificate of Thanks

Daly City Police Chief Roland A. Petrocchi this week received a certificate of appreciation from the Child Safety Council, a national organization, for the police department's program of teaching safety in elementary schools.

This is the third year the department has conducted the program.

The certificate was presented to Petrocchi by Floyd A. Ward, representing the council.

The program, carried out in co-operation with the Jefferson Eelemtary School district, has been carried on largely by Sgt. Henry Sundermann and Patrolman David Johnstone of the police department.

Both officers have visited classrooms and lectured youngsters on such topics as traffic safety, [illegible] safety, [illegible] narcotics and the dangers of tampering with electrical or mechanical equipment.

They also have distributed literature supplied by the Child Safety Council.

The council is a non-profit organization with headquarters in Jackson, Mich. It maintains a library of films on child safety that is available to police and school administrations.

New 'Queen' to Reign

Miss Daly City Of 1963 Will Be Chosen Tonight

The ninth edition of an annual Daly City extravaganza goes before the spotlight tonight.

It's the Miss Daly City Pageant and a record outpouring of citizenry is expected to sit in on the proceedings. Five young ladies, chosen in preliminary competition, will vie for the crown.

The pageant will be staged in the new South San Francisco Elks club on Hillside boulevard, starting at 7:30 p.m.

The pageant is sponsored by the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce.

Fred Martin, chairman and master of ceremonies tonight, has reported that ticket sales for the event "are way ahead of prior years. A lot of people are coming who have never come before."

Previous years' turnouts have totaled about 100 persons. The Elks club will accommodate about 500.

The program will begin with a banquet of prime rib of roast beef. During dinner, a fashion show, utilizing some of the apparel that will be awarded the new Miss Daly City, will be presented.

Sarann Daly will be the show commentator. Jimmy Rizan will be at the piano.

After the dinner and fashion show, the main business of the evening will get underway—the selection of the 1963 Miss Daly City.

The five finalists will walk along specially - constructed runways between tables.

They again will be judged carefully on the basis of beauty, poise and personality. The finalists are:

Judi Ann Homan, 17, of 607 Florence street, a junior at Jefferson High school.

Sharon Schroeder, 17, of 368 Bellevue avenue, a Jefferson graduate.

Karen S. Schroeter, 20, of 40 Crestview drive, a graduate of Westmoor High school.

Claudia Ann Smith, 18, of 71 Garden Grove drive, a senior at Westmoor.

The winner will receive more than $1000 in prizes and merchandise awards, donated by Daly City merchants.

As the city's new reigning beauty queen, she will participate throughout the coming year in a pot pourri of city and civic functions.

Tickets for the pageant will be on sale throughout today at the Chamber of Commerce office at 6454 Mission street and at the office of The Post, 30 Park Plaza drive.

Tickets also will be on sale tonight at the Elks club.

Pacifica Hospital Approved

A new 37-bed surgical hospital north of Monterey road in the northern part of the city was approved by Pacifica planning commissioners Monday night.

Although plans previously submitted by Oddstad homes had been okehed by the city, plans Monday night were submitted by Grant O. Jones in behalf of Custom homes and showed the hospital relocated approximately 1400 feet north of its original location.

The new hospital was approved by a five to one vote, with Commissioner Louis Lorenz dissenting. He pointed out that Dr. Harold Chope, county health director, has often been opposed to small, privately-owned hospitals. The new facility would be somewhat similar in size to the former Junipero Serra hospital in Daly City.

Plans for a 49-bed nursing home at Peralta and San Pedro roads in the southern part of the city were held over until June 17 by the commission because city councilmen have not yet rezoned the property. The applicant, Eli Chalich, had asked architectural approval last night.

An application of Jim Telegan in behalf of the Coast Range Development company to have .81 acres on the northern side of Higgens way rezoned to a garden apartment zone was turned down by a five to one vote on the grounds the property is suitable only for single - family development.

An application of Edward H. Maykel to have property near a proposed trailer park at the end of Pedro Valley rezoned to a neighborhood commercial and a garden apartment zone was held over until July 1 for more definite plans and to make sure a proposed shopping area is not being doubled in size.

Commissioners unanimously voted down application of Betty Malmgren to build on a substandard sized lot opposite and east of 766 Hewitt avenue. Commissioners agreed the applicant could enlarge the size of the lot.

Survey of Erosion on Coast Set

Help for Pacifica's eroding shoreline appeared nearer this week with congressional approval for a $54,000 engineering survey.

Congressman J. Arthur Younger notified Mayor Harold Feyge last week that the house public works committee has passed a resolution authorizing funds for a three-year survey by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Feyge said this week that Younger told him he plans to go before the house appropriations committee in order to get the funds immediately.

Ordinarily, Feyge was told, funds are not made available for a year after projects are approved.

However, the mayor says he understands that even with a delay on congressional approval, there are other funds available, particularly in the engineers corps that can be tapped for the survey.

Feyge said he also got in touch with Hal Raynor of the Federal Beach Erosion board who made a trip to Pacifica last summer to study the situation and took many photographs.

Feyge located Raynor, who has been traveling on the West Coast, in Portland, Ore., and asked him to appear with Congressman Younger before the house appropriations group in support of the project.

Feyge said that William James of the State Division of Water Resources also has offered to help push the project through.

The mayor has been concerned

Jeff Elementary Budget Prepared

By RON BATES

A preliminary budget of $4,152,869 has been proposed for the Jefferson Elementary School district for the next school year.

The board of trustees plans to begin discussion on the tentative budget later this month.

Board Asks Teachers to Its Sessions

The Jefferson Elementary School District board of trustees Monday night invited teachers to sit in on budget sessions to determine where the budget could be cut to facilitate a requested pay raise.

The trustees met in the second session of a pay discussion with the Jefferson Classroom Teachers association.

The teachers are asking for a raise of approximately four per cent, which would put them on a pay scale similar to teachers in the Jefferson High School district.

Board Chairman Thomas Noonan said the teachers "have not made one proposal where we are going to get money for the raise."

Dr. Richard Foster, superintendent of schools, and Dr. David Shapiro, assistant superintendent of business, estimated the cost of nine salary proposals by the teachers to be approximately a half-million dollars.

The pay raise itself would cost about $168,000 and a reduced

(Please See Page 2, Column 4)

Using the current district tax rate of $2.68 per $100 assessed valuation, the district anticipates an added income of $97,350 due to a 5 per cent increase in the assessed valuation of the area.

The present tax rate is at the maximum level and will remain the same for the next school year, according to Richard Foster, superintendent of schools.

The anticipated 5 per cent increase in assessed valuation of the area will raise it from $75,057,028 to $78,809,879.

Next year's budget figure is an increase of $60,543 over the current year's budget of $4,092,376.

The increase is due mainly to the opening of the new Franklin Delano Roosevelt school in the Westlake Terrace area, according to Foster.

New teachers, administrators and classified personnel must be hired to staff the new school.

With the staff, the cost of instruction throughout the district will jump from $2,876,673 this year to $3,039,996, an increase of $163,323.

The increase includes increment raises for the present school staff but does not include any anticipated raise in teachers' salaries.

The board of trustees now must decide where to tighten the district's belt to keep the district operating without a deficit.

Original requests by district staff totaled $4,440,347.

Among those items that may be cut is a capital outlay program of $326,205. Proposed exclusions also include improvement of sites totaling $141,705 and state school project change orders totaling $20,000.

Road Bonds Vote Results

Results of yesterday's county-wide vote on a $35-million bond issue to finance 28 road projects in the county will be published in today's editions of The San Mateo Times, on sale at newsstands and at the office of The Post.

Next week, The Post will carry a complete rundown on the vote and how it affects the North County.

Companies Deny Blame

Both the plumbing contractor and manufacturer have disclaimed responsibility for Westmoor High school's defective hot water heating system.

Paul Bradley of Bradley Plumbing and Heating company, in a letter to the district attorney, stated that the heating system was installed "in exact compliance with the design and specification furnished."

Bradley pointed out that the installation was inspected and approved by the engineering firm of Buonaccorsi and Murry as well as by the school district inspector after completion.

LAND USE PREVIEW

5 Schools Seen For Dairy Tract

Proposed sites for a high school and four elementary schools on the Christen Dairy Ranch property were discussed at a top level meeting last week of Daly City officials, representatives of three North County school districts and developers of the property.

The 900-acre tract is located between Junipero Serra and Skyline boulevards, south of Daly City.

The school sites were discussed briefly. They would be within areas under the jurisdiction of the Jefferson Elementary, Jefferson High and South San Francisco Unified school districts.

George S. Gatter, representing Wilsey, Ham and Blair, Millbrae planning consultants, said he has asked for a series of meetings with all school representatives.

Object of the sessions will be to determine school needs for the area so that the needs may be considered in planning the development of the Christen tract.

Preliminary plans for the property include an 84-acre regional shopping center.

Major design decisions, according to the planners, must await the determination of locations of proposed state highway and freeway routes and interchanges.

Gatter said his firm's study will include the preparation of maps, models and perspective drawings—depicting innovations in street and building layouts.

The Suburban Realty company, a new company formed by Standard Builders and Crocker Land companies to develop the land, plans a residential community for the Christen tract that will include single and multi - family units, shopping centers, schools, parks and playgrounds.

An estimated $150 - million will be invested in the overall program, developers say.

Coast Urges Wage Parley

The Pacifica city council Monday night urged Bay Area cities to get together on setting wages and benefits for city employes.

Councilmen voted to send a letter to the Association of Bay Area Governments, expressing dissatisfaction with the general methods by which cities set wages and asking that fresh standards be set by the organization.

Before Pacifica councilmen Monday night was a recommendation from their personnel advisory board for a five per cent salary increase for all employ-

Social Success Is Financial Flop

By LOUANNE HEATH

A champagne party and international ball, sponsored by the Pacifica branch of the American Field Services organization, turned out to be a spectacular social success, observers agree.

At the same time, however, it flopped badly at the cash register and just exactly why it did was still a subject of conjecture among sponsors this week as final costs were figured and ticket sale tabulations were made.

"I still have no way of knowing the exact figures," Mrs. George Mason, AFS treasurer, said earlier this week, "but very roughly I would say that we probably cleared a little over $100."

Mrs. Mason, one of the chief motiviating forces behind the party and ball, explained that the group had hoped to sell 500 tickets, thus insuring an attendance of about 1000 persons.

"We felt we would have at least 800 people taking part," Mrs. Mason continued, "and this would have given us a profit of a little less than $2000."

Instead, when the curtain rose on the film, "Carry on Nurse," only about 300 people were on hand in the SeaVue theater to enjoy champagne and sophisticated humor. Why this should have happened no one has been able to say with any certainty though a number of partial explanations have been made.

"I've had people say they would have loved to come but they didn't know anything about it," Mrs. Mason recounted. "I simply don't understand it because we thought we were carrying on one of the most intensive publicity campaigns ever conducted in this area."

"It was terribly disheartening because so many people worked so very hard to make this a real success. We must have $700 by July if we are to have an exchange student at Terra Nova in the fall and that means we still must raise an additional $400," Mrs. Mason said.

"I have given Father Fredricks (the Rev. John Fredricks, Pacifica AFS president), my personal pledge that we'll have it, too. We are going to have that foreign student here teaching load would cost about $271,000, Foster said.

Board Asks Teachers to Its Sessions

Charles E. White, chairman of the teacher's finance committee, asked if the teachers could seek help from outside the district and sit in on the budget sessions.

"We don't feel we're quite able to match wits with you on financial points," White said. "But if we have to point out where the money could come from, we have some sources available."

Noonan said the budget was "a public matter" and the teachers were welcome to attend.

Noonan said the board had "overextended" the budget last year to grant a pay increase to the teachers.

"We had to postpone $50,000 in capital expenditures."

The board chairman said that after looking at this year's budget, he doesn't think a pay raise is possible.

Noonan criticized the high school board sharply for granting a large pay raise to its teachers.

"It's unfair to the elementary teachers," he said. "If this were a unified district it would not have happened."

The teachers distributed copies of a brochure, prepared by their committee, outlining current salary schedules and comparing them with the salaries of workers in other fields in the area.

The brochure also pointed out the teacher's difficulty in meeting minimum down payments on houses in the elementary district's area.

Trustee Dr. Donald Calvert, at the beginning of the discussion, took issue with the teacher's arguments for a raise.

Calvert said that "buying a house in the first year of work is not necessarily a right of someone."

He said he and his wife had to work for several years before they could buy a home.

He said some of the businesses cited by the teachers in the brochure are seasonal and figures on an hourly rate by the teachers could not be accurate.

Trustee O. Wayne Douglas agreed with Calvert that the teaching profession, as a whole, is underpaid.

"However, we do have problems of finance," he said. "The budget may become a strained budget. What money we have available will come at the expense of other things that are needed."

The board and the teachers discussed at length a proposal for five days professional or emergency leave per teacher.

The proposal would cover teacher absences from school not provided in rules covering illness, bereavement and court appearances. The teacher would receive the difference between his regular pay and the $20 pay for a substitute.

In other action, the board:

Hired six new teachers.

Accepted the resignation of five teachers, including principal Leonard Herbst, who accepted an assistant professorship at San Francisco State college.

Business Is 'Excellent', Firm Says

An announced boycott of the new "Sanchez Adobe" gas station in Pacifica has apparently failed to materialize, or else to get effective support from Linda Mar citizens.

The Union Oil company and station manager Charles Ettinger report that business at the station, on the corner of Linda Mar boulevard and Adobe drive, has been excellent.

An official of the Union Oil company said business has been double that normally expected in the first few weeks of operation.

Controversy arose last sumer when the oil company applied for a permit to build the station on land, near the historic Sanchez Adobe, that previously had been zoned commercially by the city council for a medical-dental center.

The council denied the station architectural approval but was overruled in superior court after some six months of litigation with the landowner.

Subsequently, a group of Linda Mar residents in an open letter to the oil company announced plans to boycott the station.

Ettinger said, however, that none of his neighbors has given him any trouble since he quietly opened the station recently.

He says that several residents, including signers of the boycott letter, have come in to tell him he has a nice looking building, that the station is very handy, that they are glad he is there and to ask for credit cards.

Ettinger is a Pacifican. He has lived in Sharp Park at 201 Paloma avenue since 1950. He was formerly manager of the Union Oil station in Pacific Manor, which was demolished to make room for the coastal freeway.

in September come what may!"

"I've heard many, many people say it was the outstanding social event in Pacifica," announced Mrs. Lyle Planje, who along with her husband, worked many hours on plans and preparations for Wednesday night's affair.

"There weren't as many people there as we might have hoped but everyone who was there had a marvelous time. Since people had such a lot of fun we hope word will get around and next year it will be much more successful," Mrs. Planje said.

"Time was an important element in this, too. We had to act quickly or abandeon plans for an exchange student this year. As a result, the weekend the board members selected might not have been the best one but it was the best they could do on such short notice," Mrs. Planji continued.

According to Lyle Planje, the group hopes to make this an annual event but at present is undecided whether to stage the same type of fund raising affair again next year or to hold a different type of benefit.

"We all had a marvelous time," Mrs. Marion Ballew announced. "Perhaps the reason we didn't have as large a turnout as we wanted was because so many organizations are winding up their activities right now and everyone is very busy."

In the opinion of Mrs. Bernice Monin, "it was just lovely. This is just the sort of thing Pacifica needs. We all had a marvelous time and the women all looked just beautiful.

"Maybe it was the long weekend that prevented more people from coming but those of us who did go thoroughly enjoyed ourselves," Mrs. Monin concluded.

Whatever the reason for the small turnout, AFC officers now are faced with soliciting $300 to $400 dollars within the next month. This they hope to accomplish by pushing the sale of "shares" in the exchange student project.

The City Honors Ricco Benedetti

More than 300 persons crowded into the House of Parties Saturday night to officially say "Good Luck and Good Bye" to retiring Daly City Police Sergeant Ricco Benedetti.

Greetings were read from President John F. Kennedy, Governor Edmund Brown, Congressman J. Arthur Younger, San Mateo county Supervisor Louis Chess, Superior Court Judges Charles Becker and Louis DeMatteis and police chiefs from the surrounding communities.

Benedetti is ending 35 years of service as a police officer.

Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci presented Benedetti's badge No. 60, which had been gold-plated. The badge number is being retired from the city police rolls.

The gold-plated badge was one of a number of gifts Benedetti received. Others included an electronic tune-up kit and timing lights, numerous merchandise gift certificates, portable stereo, television set and a large plaque.

Superior Court Judge Frank Blum delivered the major address of the dinner.

Other speakers included Councilman Edward Dennis, Daly City Police Chief Roland Petrocchi, City Attorney Paul Hupf and attorney Thomas L. Bocci.

Dan Casentini served as general chairman.

about the shoreline erosion problem for some time. He has said that, next to freeway construction, erosion is the most vital problem affecting the city's future.

All along Pacifica's shoreline, cliff and beach areas are being steadily eroded and washed into the sea. Property owners have lost as much as 125 feet within the last few years to the erosion, particularly along the bluff areas in the northern section of the city.

The Army Corps of Engineers has recommended that a three-year survey of the situation be made as soon as possible, which could be followed by a massive beach-building project that could take years and run into millions of dollars.

Feyge believes that a seawall might be built, running the entire length of the city, with an esplanade alongside. Other possibilities include a breakwater and harbor for small boats.

Such a beach development might help the city to realize its recreation potential, which the State Division of Beaches and Parks has called the greatest in the Bay Area.

Hoshaw wrote the corrosion was probably caused by water penetrating through a rupture of the membrane of the pipe.

The rupture in the water-proofing membrane could have occurred during the placing of backfill, or the installation of shrubbery or by earth tremor, Hoshaw maintained.

The manufacturer added that "there is a possibility that the drainage system installed around the building is inadequate to carry away excessive water applied by sprinkling."

In other matters, the Jefferson Union High school board last week learned the architect of Oceana High school has asked Republic Steel corporation to repair metal lockers that have rusted, due to climatic conditions.

Plans for the second phase of Oceana High school were presented to the school board by architects Mario Ciampi and Paul Reiter and were approved.

The board also authorized the architects to prepare plans for a future expansion of the administration department at Westmoor High school.

Pacifica Law Officers Cited

Two Pacifica police officers have been cited by a national magazine for their work in a murder case.

The editors of "True Detective" magazine have presented the publication's distinguished service award to Police Chief Neil Tremaine and Inspector Al Tebaldi.

Chief Tremaine and Inspector Tebaldi are cited for their work which led to the swift solution of the slaying of Mrs. Lillian Wales, whose body was recovered from the surf below Mori Point on March 11.

Pacifica Women's Club Awards 4 Scholarships

College scholarships have been awarded to four Terra Nova High school seniors by the Federated Women's club of Pacifica, according to an announcement this week ing to an announcement by Marian Ballew, president.

Winners are Frances Harrison, 507 Johnson avenue; Bonnie Schaffner, 371 Seaside drive; Jorgen Vindum, 1181 Alicante drive, and Gary Cochran, 3331 Geoffrey drive, San Bruno.

The girls plan to attend College of San Mateo. Jorgen will go to University of California, and Gary will attend Brigham Young university in Utah.

Mrs. Ballew said the club had a difficult time selecting the winners since this year they were presented with a slate of nine candidates, all well qualified.

The club has been awarding college scholarships since 1958, originally for students planning nursing careers.

Funds for the scholarships are raised by the club's annual fashion show. Scholarship chairman is Mrs. David Ellison.

Personnel chairman Durwood Bird, in presenting the committee report, said the recommendations were made to bring Pacifica salaries in line with those in other Bay Area cities.

He said the board feared there would be a considerable loss of personnel in Pacifica's police and fire departments unless salaries keep pace with other communities.

Already, two cities have granted sizeable increases he said.

ZIP Arrives!

It's called "ZIP."

It's all tied up with mail service.

And it's arrived in Daly City, according to Postmaster Vincent P. Murphy.

ZIP is a refinement of the zone system. Essentially, its purpurpose is to speed your mail — both incoming and outgoing.

It will use a five-number code, which will identify mail delivery offices.

For example, areas west of Junipero Serra boulevard — including Colma, Westlake, Broadmoor, St. Francis Heights and areas delivered by rural truck—will use the code number 94015.

East of Junipero Serra and in Sterling Park, Callan Heights, Theresa Terrace, the Crocker Tract and the remainder of Daly City, the number will be 94014.

Post office boxes at the main office will use 94016.

The Post Office will notify each resident of the ZIP code number in his area.

To use it, residents should add the number after the city and state in this fashion: Daly City, California—94016.

Schrock Gets CD Position

Fire Captain Keith Schrock has been named to take charge of the operational duties of the Daly City Civil Defense program, by City Manager Edward Frank and Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy.

The city manager's office will retain its administrative activities in civil defense but the job of "getting it done" will fall on Schrock.

Schrock will carry on his normal duties as a company captain.

Schrock and City Councilman Edward Dennis attended the county committee meeting on Civil Defense at the Hillcrest Juvenile hall library recently.

Supervisor James Fitzgerald is chairman of the committee.

HUB CAPS STOLEN

Thomas S. Whitling of 340 Lake Merced boulevard reported to Daly City police over the weekend that four hub caps had been stolen from his car while it was parked in front of his home.

Mock Plane Crash Brings 150 Boy Scouts to Rescue

Approximately 150 Boy Scouts and their leaders were put to the test when a simulated airplane crash occurred, on San Bruno mountain during a three-day camporee.

The camporee, conducted by the lake Merced district Boy Scout council under the direction of Robert Evans, chairman of camping, was interrupted about 9:30 a.m. on a Sunday morning by a loud explosion and billowing smoke in the distance.

Minutes later, Joseph McBride, a Boy Scout from troop 392, came staggering into the camp, supposedly suffering from wounds, his clothes torn.

The Boy Scouts, who had no warning of the test, rushed to the scene of the crash and found 19 "victims" scattered over a quarter-mile area.

Each patrol had one "victim" to treat for burns, wounds or shock. They were judged by scout leaders who were told of the exercise five minutes before it happened.

The injuries were made as realistic-looking as possible with burns simulated by rubber cement and grease paint and wounds by simulated wax and plastic theatrical makeup. Broken arms, legs, legs back and necks were identified by signs.

The scouts were not assisted by adult supervisors in the first-aid training exercise.

"Victims" who were able to be moved were transported to the camp on stretcher, made on the scene from available materials by the scouts.

Evans said he was pleased with the exercise. "Good training of the boys by the scoutmasters was evident."

The first-aid exercise was the highlight of "one of the most successful camporees held in the area," Evans said.

Letters

TO THE EDITOR:

Our compliments on a well done article last week concerning the co-ordinated multiple bookmaking arrests made by this and other law enforcement agencies. We feel that you approached the story from an angle which was missed by the metropolitan daily papers, and that yours was the more true and clear representation.

One correction might be in order. You credited Patrolman John Kolbmann with obtaining the information which was later developed by investigation into the resulting raids.

Without detracting from Officer Kolbmann's work in any way, we point out that the officer to whom credit is due is Patrolman John Coleman. This comment is made on a "credit where credit is due" basis.

Congratulations on an otherwise excellent article.

TO THE EDITOR:

As publicity chairman of Holy Angels' Women's guild, may I take this opportunity to thank you and all of your staff for the excellent coverage of our events in the past year.

My warmest personal regards to Louanne Heath and the guild's thanks to her for extending her "Louanne's Datebook" to always include Holy Angels' Women's guild datebook!

Louanne's scintillating column has done much to add to the successful year we have enjoyed.

TO THE EDITOR:

Thank you for your help in publicizing the book review meetings held by the Friends of the Library and YWCA during the last year.

Though the audiences are not large, those who attend are very loyal and I am sure they appreciate these notices.

2nd Coast Directory Is Issued

Pacifica residents have been surprised to find a second business directory left at their front doors—only a couple of weeks after distribution of the Chamber of Commerce's Blue Book directory.

The second Pacifica directory, which has a yellow cover, is published by the Merchants Directory Service, 67 Aura Vista, Pacifica.

Chamber manager Basil Gladieux said this week that advertisements for this directory were solicited from merchants about two years ago with the expectation the directory would be published at that time.

They were solicited by Ron Richardson, now of San Francisco, who had published a Pacifica directory in 1958 and 1959-60.

Gladieux said that this year when the Chamber of Commerce directory was nearly three-fourths completed, Richardson offered to sell his ads to the chamber and was turned down by the chamber's board of directors.

Ben Franklin Maps Exercises

Benjamin Franklin school will hold its graduation exercises Thursday, June 13, on the school grounds, outside the building.

Girls are asked to wear skirts and blouses or sweaters. Corsages are not to be worn.

Pacifica GOP Maps Project

Pacifica Republicans have undertaken a traffic safety campaign as a community project, according to Emory Lebonville, publicity chairman of the group.

The Republicans hope to encourage the state to extend the "cat's eyes" reflectors along Skyline boulevard.

They now end near Rollingwood and the group wants them extended north to the intersection with the Edgemar freeway and also placed on the Edgemar freeway.

A DAY or two after the recent column on Jim Gentile, I coincidentally happened on a sporting news article of Jim which told of a surprise visit at his Baltimore home one late night by Frank Zupe, a former Baltimore bonus baby and San Francisco friend of Jim's.

I had almost forgotten about little Frankie since Baltimore signed him out of Sacred Heart High school several years ago for a reported $50,000.

After a couple of cups of coffee with the Orioles, Frankie became entangled in the Oriole minor league chain to "mature" as a catcher.

The word "mature" seems rather strange to me in connection with Zupe, because even as a seven or eight-year-old batboy for the Junior Portola Merchans, little Zupe was a stocky, tough-talking, bushy-browed neighborhood character who could more ofen be found practicing curves down the first base line than racking bats.

Zupe always loved baseball, and his ex-semi-pro backstop, Frank Sr., always encouraged him.

The kid had all the actions right from the beginning. When little Frankie spat out of the side of his mouth and told you — not asked you — to play catch with him, you did.

When he was old enough to lift the equipment, our manager, Joe Gaggero, put him on the team as a bull pen catcher. Gaggero and Frank Sr., figured the Zupe had more requisites for catching than pitching.

He was rugged, a left handed hitter, which is always a plus for catchers, and most important of all, possessed a lead bottom, which no catcher worthy of his name can be without.

In his earlier years, Frank used to seem to have to wrap the tools of ignorance around himself twice. But aside from that and an occasional trip on a loose shinguard, the tools seemed natural to him.

In quick succession came the sandlots, all-city status as a prep under Dick Murray (who also was Gentile's mentor,, and, at about 18, marriage after signing the Oriole contract. Then the beginning of an exciting trip down the glory road of baseball, which hasn't always been so exciting or glorious.

But now all of a sudden here's Zupe, having a big year for York — a Washington farm team — of the AA Eastern league (.375 at this writing), and maybe finally "matured" enough as a catcher to make the big time soon.

How time does fly.

EVERYBODY SAYS the Giants are in a hitting slump. If they are, so's the rest of the baseball world.

Next time you get a chance, check the major league team batting averages. You'll probably find the Giants not too far from the top of the National league averages.

You'll probably also find that the best hitting team in the majors is probably only in the .260-.270 range when ordinarily at this time of year, it wouldn't be unusual to find a leading team or two hitting around .280-.290.

Obviously, everybody can't be in a slump. The answer is probably the "new" strike zone, which, says The Sporting News, based on a recent survey, has cut down the number of walks in the majors by 20 per cent.

That's a lot of walks, a lot of rallies that aren't started or extended. This may also explain the sudden emergence of an exceptional crop of young pitchers.

Some say these young fellas have developed this year because of baseball's recent intensive search for powerful young arms, and offers of fabulous riches to bring them into camp.

This is not the answer. There are always a certain number of powerful young arms around and they always eventually, if they're good enough, find their way into major league camps.

But one thing that the powerful young arms don't always have is control — especially low ball control — and with the new strike zone opening the strike area primarily in an "up" direction, you can pretty well figure why the young guys who throw the high hard one are finding it suddenly easier to get by.

Add the fact that the batters — after years of learning one strike zone — must now learn a new one, and I think you have the answer for baseball's hitting "slump." Next time you attend a game notice how many batters are going down with the bats on their shoulders. This "new" rule is going to give the game back to the free wheeling pitchers and the free swinging hitters.

Reason why I keep writing "new" rather than new, is because the "new" strike zone isn't "new." Until ten years ago, the top-of-the-shoulders, bottom-of-the-knees rule had been baseball's acknowledged strike zone since its infancy.

I think it's a sad commentary when athletic officials must take professional athletes aside and tell these grown, mature men the facts of life — such as they shouldn't go to certain sinful bars or other such dens of iniquity lest they brush up against a dirty old gambler.

If these men can't be trusted to use their own good judgement, owners shouldn't sign them and commisioners shouldn' sanction their contracts.

Professional athletes should by now not only know on what side of the bread their butter is spread, but they should also know from where their butter comes.

It doesn't come from gamblers, who would tout their sainted mother off a sure thing if it meant lifting the odds.

Start driving athletes out of all joy spots except orange juice stands and you'll soon drive them into pool rooms with Bo Belinsky and Leo Durocher, which could be a fate worse than hob-nobbing with gamblers and bartenders.

End of tirade!

Recreation Loop Leaders Keep Pace

The PAL Cardinals, the Holy Angels Lions, the PAL Dodgers and the PAL Tigers last week continued to occupy the penthouses in baseball leagues sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department.

Here is a roundup of action in the leagues during the week:

JUNIOR LEAGUE

The PAL Tigers' Bobby Nolan knocked the BYA Skyline Plaza out of the top spot last week. Nolan gave up four hits and drove in two runs. Teammate Val Sabuco hit two for three with two RBIs and Nick Budea went two for four to help out Nolan as the Tigers won 6-2.

Mike Chelone came through for OLPH with aone-hit ball game against the OLM Gunners. Gunner moundmen had a bit of trouble with wildness as they gave up 11 walks and 11 solten bases.

The OLPH Falcons turned these into 10 runs for a 10-1 win. In the last four ball games ,Chelone has given up only 8 hits and has 30 strikeouts to his credit.

The PAL Cubs came through with a cliffhanger in their game with the OLM Saints. Leading all the way, the Saints went into the last inning confident they were in the win column. But three straight pinchhitters, led by Paul Pucci, tied the score at four all.

INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE

Larry Formalejo put the Ben Franklin Press team back in the running last week with his third straight win. The Holy Angels Shamrocks could only take two hits off his pitching. Arnold Reis tagged three for four at crucial times to help out in the scoring department.

BYA Bender Roofers took on BYA Relish Bakery. Doug Rosen, the Roofers' pitcher had a shutout with two outs in the last of the seventh when the Bakers caught fire. A base on ball and three hits in a row gave the Bakers all three of their runs.

The Roofers were outhit, 8-5, but turned in a 8-3 win over the Bakers.

Steve Back of the Bender Roofers faced Lou Gernhardt of the OLM Aces and came away a winner later in the week. It was a strange game.

Back gave up five hits and Gernhardt gave up five hits. Back walked six men, Gernhardt walked six men. Back left 10 OLM basemen stranded, Gernhardt left 10Roofer basemen stranded.

Each team made five errors behind its pitcher. The big difference was a triple with the base loaded by Steve Back. Final: Roofers 8, Aces 5.

Harry Mannini pitched the Holy Angels Shamrocks to a 5-2 win over BYA Relish Bakery to even the Shamrocks record at 5-5. Mannini survived a shaky first inning when he hit a batter and gave up two singles.

He struck out seven and walked two, and came up with his third league win. Dan Belluomini drove in two runs to lead the Shamrock attack. Mike Smith and John O'Dea drove in one run each for the Shamrocks.

MIDGET LEAGUE—NATIONAL DIVISION

Rod McArthur of the PAL Yankees lost a tough one to the OLM Leopards. McArthur allowed the Leopards only three hits but errors by the Yank defensive unit turned them into nine Leopard turned them into nine Leopard runs.

Seven Yank hits off pitcher Dave Spieth could only be turned into three runs, two of them triples. Steve Becker pulled off a great defensive play for the Leopards with a tremendous throw from deep left field to cut off Jones' try for a double.

This win over the Yanks put the Leopards into atie for second place and knocked tye Yanks back to fourth place.

Smoky Morton and the rest of the PAL Braves came up with a shutout over the PAL Indians this week. The Indians threatened for a while in the fifth inning when two hits and a hit batter filled the bases.

Going down hard this week, the Holy Angels Colts dropped one to the PAL Cardinals, 5-3. Ron Papes went all the way for the Cards, fanning 10 and giving up three hits. J. Rebarber gave the Cards three for three while Steve Kirby and Gordy Contreras accounted for two RBI's each.

Morton collected another win Saturday over the luckless Colts. Paul Romer hit two for three for the Braves and Dana Marcus smashed a double. Kevin O'Shea kept the score down with a running catch in left field that otherwise would have meant two runs. Final: Braves 3, Colts 1.

Gary Wilson put down BYA Bender Roofing for the PAL Cardinals this week. Wilson whiffed 11 Bender batters and gave up five hits. The Birds collected only seve nhits but fancy base running helped them to eight runs.

Gordy Contreras hit three for four for the Birds while J. Rebarber picked up two RBIs.

Ellsworth Wins Ken West Award

By GARRY NIVER

College of San Mateo, the north state's athletic powerhouse, held its annual spring awards banquet last week with 40 youths receiving block letters, scholarships and other various honors.

Heading the list of those acknowledged were Jerry Ellsworth, Mickey Corso, Ron Benson and Dick Lotz.

Ellsworth, an outfielder on ient of the annual Ken West Jr. scholarship award. The former Carlmont prep will attend Chico State college next semester.

Diminutive Corso, CSM's all-conference catcher, was also awarded a partial scholarship by Ken West Sr. and received the Most Valuable Player trophy for his outstanding play during the season.

Benson, the Bulldogs' nationally prominent middle distance runner, and captain of the track team, was accorded the Most Valuable Trackman award by coach Berny Wagner.

Lotz, who guided the CSM golfers to the Western Junior college title and a second in the state championships, was given the Most Valuable Player award for that sport.

The otter sleeps in the water on its back.

Dick Lotz To Defend Golf Title

The California State Amateur golf tournament, to be held at Pebble Beach June 24-30, has already attracted 290 entrants.

Defending champion is College of San Mateo's Dick Lotz, who is expected to have plenty of competition in this ye.r's tussle.

Entry applications are available at all pro shops and at the Northern California Golf association office, 405 Montgomery street. Entry deadline is Saturday.

Northerners may be hard pressed to retain the championship won last year by young Lotz.

Stars from the south who are eager to return the trophy to their home ground include such notables as: Julie Bescos, Jim McPhate, Jim Ferrie and Dr. J. champion, who has recently been absent from tournament play, will also be present.

The northern half of the state will be well represented by its crop of young men who made such a fine showing in last year's tourney.

The Lotz boys have entered, and John would like nothing better than to win the elusive title which he has so narrowly missed on his last two tries—even if it means a "head-on" match with current champion, brother Dick.

USGA junior champ Jim Wiechers, Steve Oppermann and Stanford's Kent Winton fill out the roster of young men, any one of whom could win the title.

Serra Bowl

IT SEEMS that we're about due for a run down on junior action at Serra so here goes with a recap of the most recent kegling last week in bantam and junior leagues.

Bob Doyle led the younger set in the high game department of Junior-Senior Boys bowling Saturday with a nifty 221 single effort in his 559 series as he paced the Sandbaggers to a 2-1 win over the All Stars. Jim Leatherberry ran a close second for the winners with a 197-555 threesome while Ron Fry led the losers with a nice 187-501 trio.

Mike Sronka, 125 average youngster, blasted a strong 176-468 series for the Us Guys quartet and helped his team win two out of three games from Team 1, paced by Ken Newman who tallied 117 pins over his 111 average with a 156-450 total.

John Gurrettaz took high series honors with a 199-564 total as his Air Flo Shirt team took two out of three decisions from the Misrack boys. Other highs in that duel were posted by Dan Hyman with a hefty 202-547 for Air Flo and Ron Giner with a 162-429 trio for the losers.

In Junior-Senior Mixed Fours action, Robin Golobic topped both boys and girls on Team 8 with her 146-355 effort. Judy Hnilo toppled 147-413 and Todd Beccaria 157-412 for the Swingers but couldn't overcome a 52 pin handicap and dropped two out of three games to Robin's crew.

TOM HAKINS banged a 134-382 for Team 7 as it swept all three games from Team 5, led by Pat Welling's 132-388 threesome.

Dennis Neubert was high roller last week for this loop with a 179-476, followed by Paul Porter with 166-464 for Team 1 as they scored a clean sweep over team 3. Mil Wagner led the losers with a 152-388 tally.

The Serra Bombers scored a 2-1 victory over Team 2. Mike Fonser scored high for the Bombers with 129-354 while Carolyn Fields topped Team 2 with a 142-383 series.

The Minor Midget bantams bowl only two games but operate on a three-point system with a win for total pins. Following are some scores for the little kids.

Mimi Geddling, bowling for the Spare Makers, tallied 291 as her team won 2 of 3 points from the Gutter Dusters whose high man proved to be Dennis Coleman with a 255 duo.

Team 7 won two out of three games from Team 3 on Harry Garbedian's 176 shooting while Bill Stura tallied 193 for the losers.

Russell Casias tumbled 284 on individual efforts of 148 and 136 as his A.B.C. Drapery company team swept all three games from Team 8 led by Mike Coleman who tossed a 216 series.

The Dynamos took three games from Team 2 on Rick Golobic's 277 tally. Best effort for the losers was Stevie Scammon's 178.

Go to it kids! Some day we might be reading your names on the prize lists of the pro-tours.

Westlake Bowl

THE NEWEST in weekly bowling starts at 7 p.m. today with the 3-6-9 Mixer, which will be held every Wednesday during the summer months. With an automatic strike awarded in the third, sixth, and ninth frames, bowlers will discard their lowest game and use the three remaining scores plus handicap for cash prizes. The Mixer is open to men and women—both new and experienced bowlers.

Once again, scores were high in the four game Doubles Classic as John Schmidt shot a 237 game and 886 series while Frank Hubert rolled an 824 series wit ha high game of 217.

Bonnie Birkett upheld the honor of the fairer sex in the Brunswick Travel league as she rolled a 214 game and a big 597 series. Phil Wallace and Don Acton led the men with 230-654 and 227-612 respectively.

Junior bowlers start their summer action next Saturday as over 200 boys and girls take part in the summer program.

Secretary Arlene Steinberg and Jay Hooker topped the 99'ers Mixed Fives league for the week as Arlene bowled a 190 game and 508 series while Jay posted a 580 series on a high game of 208.

A MERE six pins kept Keith Hearn from the 600 club but he still led the Ball and Chain Mixed Fives with a 223 game and 594 series. The leading lady was Wally Jones with a big 208 game and 565 series.

June 22 is the date set by Primo for an attempt to break his own record. In the opening squad of the PAL tournament last year, he had 253 bowlers participate on opening night in the largest squad in bowling history. This year he hopes to reach the maximum of 260 in the kickoff of the Fifth Annual Benefit Daly City Police Athletic League tournament.

Evelyn Goldkuhl rolled a 697 total to win the $8 first prize in Monday afternoon's Ladies 3-6-9 singles. Second prize went to Mary Miller with 686 while Mildred Garrett with 658 and Irene Hage with 644 took third and fourth prizes.

Sea Bowl

The Neptune's Daughters league had Paulette Slack reading the bowling tips article on how to pick up the 4-10 split—then converted the same. Becky Fox (same league) had a high game of 192 — Lou Engleman a high series of 472.

Alley Holics Vi Williams, 194-495; Florence Licht 173-431. Stardusters Dessie Hart 191-491, Jo Wilson 190-491. Pintwisters Roger Luhrs 218-593, Ernie Strickland 250-564, Gladys Bolton 183-471, Jean Bohnstedt 162-455. Pro Match Paul Sterling 222-617, Lamar Rolling 215-609. Moonshiners Joan Peter 198-422, Carol Elliot 166-421.

Merchants Handicap Bob Cristofani 207-516, Al Ames 193-513. Grandma's Marion Jones 188-478, Mavis Buerke 155-440. Friday Mariners Toni Alstad 163-372, Gloria Bonner 136-357. National Bantams Irby Grubaugh 129, Mike Ortega 95, Linda Harriman 89, Paul Bowman 88.

There were six entries in the Friday Ladies no tap. Winners: first place, Donna Alvis 213-673, and second place, Marie Pierce 276-644.

S.S.F. Places 3 on All-NPL Club

COACHES' TEAM

Rams, Colts Indians Land Two Players

The North Peninsula league champion South San Francisco Warriors have placed three men on an All-NPL team chosen by the loop's six coaches.

Each of the league's six schools is represented on the team. Westmoor, El Camino and Jefferson each landed two berths on the club and Terra Nova and Oceana each were represented by one player.

There were four unanimous choices, none of whom could be termed a surprise. The six coaches all voted for South City's brilliant first sacker, Neil McNevin, and Westmoor's heavy sticker, Bruce Hix.

The undefeated Warrior pitching tandem, Chuck Oliveira and Jeff Jones, also were chosen without a dissenting vote.

McNevin, who staged a late season flurry with his bat to edge Hix out of the batting title, was named the Most Valuable Player. A senior, McNevin is planning to attend College of San Mateo.

The lefty with the fluid swing batted .577 to Hix's .517. The pair each spanked 15 hits and bombed three homeruns.

Both collected 26 total bases, which meant that McNevin's slugging percentage was an even 1.000. Hix had an 18 to 11 margin in RBI's while McNevin stole 14 bases in only 10 games.

Few pitchers on one team ever have dominated a campaign as overwhelmingly as did Oliveira and Jones. Unheralded at the start of the season, Oliveira, the control king, made a specialty of throwing the ball where he aimed it, walked a minimum of batters and compiled a miserly .80 ERA while winning five games.

Jones, if not as consistent, was hardly less effective with a 1.50 ERA and four victories. He struck out 13 Jefferson batters in one game, high mark of the season, and, in fashioning two shutouts, was the only hurler to blank the opposition.

Further testimony to the dominance of Oliveira and Jones was the fact that the pair completed every one of their starts. At no time during the year did South San Francisco have need for relief pitching.

Bantam Bruce Hix, who at five foot six probably infuses more muscle into his hitting than any other batter in the league, started the season as though he believed that making an out was a major transgression.

A sophomore last year, and often batting against the superslants of Capuchino ace Wally Bunker, Hix paced Peninsula league batters with a robust .471.

A marked man this season, the Ram slammer was unruffled. His bat literally on fire, Hix after four games was 9 for 12, with three home runs. His slugging percentage at this stage was something out of the "Twilight Zone," a stratospheric 1.600.

McNevin, one of two seniors in the all-star group is graduating but Hix will return in 1964 to further harrass NPL pitchers. Westmoor coach Rod Losberger says he also plans to use his batting ace more on the mound than he did this year.

The Warrior victory twins, Oliveira and Jones, both juniors, also have a season of eligibility remaining. This may not be good news for other teams but South City, with six regulars graduating, couldn't ask for anything more.

Baseball fans are aware of the persistent wheeze that a pitcher is an automatic out. Matters were different in this league this year.

Jefferson hurler Mike Gutierrez picked off a spot on the all star team as an outfielder. A second Indian athlete, Jerry Sullivan, an equally capable hitter and pitcher, was selected as utility man.

TAKES COLLEGE POST

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. — Elwyn Evans will assume his new post as varsity basketball coach at Union College Sept. 1. Evans, 37, had coached at Herkimér High School the last three seasons.

Four 49ers on All-Star Squad

Four San Francisco 49er rookies were named to the college all-star football squad that will meet the world champion Green Bay Packers August 2 at Soldier's field in Chicago.

Prospective 49ers who will play in the game include Kermit Alexander, halfback; Chuck Sieminski, tackle; guard Walter Rock, and Floyd Dean, end. Tackle Roy Williams, formerly of the University of Pacific, is also on the team.

HIX SECOND

McNevin Hits .517 to Take Batting Title

A steady late-season surge enabled South San Francisco first baseman, Neil McNevin to win the Northern Peninsula league batting crown for 1963.

The champion Warriors completely dominated the pitching records as their victory twins, Chuck Oliveira and Jeff Jones finished one, two in the standings.

Warriors Finish With 10-0 Mark

Playing in Artic weather that a healthy penguin would have sniffed at, South San Francisco High school successfully went after a baseball Big One last week at Westmoor Field.

When it had ended, the score read Warriors 5, Rams 4.

Winning the Big One meant that greatest of athletic rarities for the Warrior nine, an undefeated season. Coach Bob Brian and his hilariously happy charges departed the Ram lair with blue noses and, as ample compensation, their tenth consecutive North Peninsula league victory.

Rod Losberger's Rams were out to spoil their opponent's immaculate record and made no secret of their intention.

After the Warriors had hopped off to a 2-0 lead in the first inning, the Rams surged back with three unearned runs in their half of the frame.

This was a strange situation for South San Francisco ace Chuck Oliveira. Not only had Westmoor scored more times sooner than had any previous opponent in an entire game, but it was also the first time this season that Oliveira had been behind.

The chucker's mates redeemed themselevs for their first - inning miscues and retrieved the lead immediately. Ahead 5-3 ,Oliveira was the master once more. The Rams came up to 5-4, but could press no closer.

Oliveira closed his season with a glistening 6-0 record.

Westmoor's defeat gave undisputed possession of second place to El Camino and relegated the Rams to a third-place tie with cross-town rival Jefferson.

McNevin's two hits insured the talented Warrior of the NPL battin gcrown. The hard-hitting lefty sprayed out six hits in the final three games to pass Westmoor's Bruce Hix, who led the hitters most of the season.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

ALL THOSE persons who have been interested in the formation of the North Peninsula circle for the Florence Crittenton home, but who haven't yet taken steps to assume an active roll in this organization will have an opportunity to rectify the situation next Wednesday morning, according to circle Chairman Jean Markovich.

The meeting, in the War Memorial building, Daly City at 10 a.m., will be the first organized session of the group. Members will hear John Mongan, principal of Jefferson High school.

Memberships will still be available at this gathering. Annual dues are $5. Checks may be made out to North Peninsula circle, Florence Crittenton home, Mrs. Markovich said.

☆ ☆ ☆

CLUB 94, the service body of Sunset White Shrine of Daly City, will host a fish fry, to be followed by an enjoyable evening of whist, Saturday in the Oddfellows hall in Half Moon Bay, according to Edna Laurel Calhan, publicity chairman for the Shrine.

Mr. and Mrs. Bedford Sprowl, Shrine members from Half Moon Bay, will act as chefs for the event. Assisting the Sprowls will be a number of members of the club, including the worthy high priestess, Mrs. Ray Jenkins of Daly City.

According to Mrs. Calhan, everyone who enjoys a tasty meal of perfectly prepared sea food and an evening of cards with congenial company is invited to attend. Proceeds will go toward financing the club's programs.

ST. EDMOND'S Episcopal Church Women's guild also is planning a card party June 15 in the social hall of the church.

Games, prizes and refreshments will be offered to guests. The party will begin at 8 p.m. Those attending will be asked to donate 75 cents.

Everyone is welcome to join in the fun, according to Mrs. Betty Catton who will accept calls for reservations any day prior to June 15 at EL 9-0910.

☆ ☆ ☆

THE MOTHER'S club of Our Lady of Perpetual Help church continues to make progress on plans for the Memory Lane fashion show to be presented in October.

According to Mrs. Richard Holmberg, show chairman, efforts to include the past presidents of the club in organization of the event have been extremely successful. To date, eight of the former presidents have accepted committee memberships and four more have offered to be consultants.

Mrs. Holmberg announced that Mrs. Tony Ricci will model; Mrs. Mylan Stanley will be chairman of hostesses; Mrs. Peter Lafiano will be chairman of the investment committee; Mrs. William Gonzales will be in charge of donations; Mrs. Walter Mignault will be co-chairman of the program committee and Mrs. Robert Perkov will be in charge of door prizes.

Mrs. Achilli Liberti, a former president who has since moved out of the area, will return to Daly City for this event and will serve the club by accpeting the commentator's duties. Mrs. Holmberg said.

Helping with advice will be Mrs. Fred Klinger, Mrs. Roy Thompson, Mrs. Edward Nolan and Mrs. George Calegari.

☆ ☆ ☆

TAKING PART in the graduation ceremony at Lakeside Presbyterian Church Nursery school Tuesday morning will be Judy Danielson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Danielson of Westlake, and Linda Cecilio, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cecilio of Daly City.

Judy will give the invocation and preside as mistress of ceremonies and Linda will be one of the graduation speakers.

☆ ☆ ☆

SPECIAL ATTENTION has been drawn to the Daly City library's collection of 569 recordings by a recent lecture delivered by Ronald E. Ankrom, according to Mrs. Julian D. Cohn, parliamentarian for the local Friends of the Library.

Ankrom, who spoke at the last meeting of the Friends, illustrated his talk with records from the local collection, Mrs. Cohn reported.

Adults are invited to visit the library and investigate the variety of records available. Borrowers may check records out on their regular library cards. Mrs. Cohn said. Only adults are eligible to take advantage of the collection.

THE PACIFICA branch of the Federated Women's club was host group at the district meeting of the Golden Gate Federated Women's clubs May 20.

Mrs. Doloris Fazzio was meeting chairman, which was held in The Breakers restaurant, and Mrs. Edna MacDonald was in charge of decorations. The ladies were assisted by 20 of their fellow members from the Pacifica group.

According to Kay Spencer, publicity chairman, the meeting was attended by members of the organization's branches in Marin county, San Francisco and San Mateo county. Special honor was paid to individuals and the clubs that have been awarded citations by the state convention o fthe Federated Women's clubs.

Mrs. Rose Haines, the Pacifica member who was instrumental in an effort to cover barren areas with wild flower seed, was singled out by the state convention for special commendation and she was again honored at the regional meeting Mrs. Spencer said.

John Brebner was luncheon speaker and delivered an interesting lecture on Shakespeare, Mrs. Spencer said.

☆ ☆ ☆

Plans to have the Rev. Terance Laughran, professor from St. Joseph's college, speak at the baccalaurate breakfast for graduating seniors from Jefferson High school have been announced by breakfast chairman Mrs. Harvey Mumford.

The breakfast, sponsored by the Catholic Daughters of America, Court St. Mary 1155, will be held in the parish hall after a 9 a.m. mass in Our Lady of Perpetual Help church.

ROTARY CLUB members in Westlake and their wives are making plans to attend the annual President's ball on June 22 at the Olympic club.

The evening, which will be devoted to honoring the incoming and outgoing officers, will include a cocktail hour, dining and dancing.

☆ ☆ ☆

AL BELOTZ was chairman at the annual dance held by the parents of members of Cub Scout Pack 248 in the Westlake club house recently.

Mrs. Conte Gressani and Mrs. Michael Kerekes were responsible for the gay and colorful touch to the decorations for the dance.

P-TA Donates Clock, Books To Students

The Christopher Columbus P-TA donated a clock and some reference books to the school at its final meeting last month.

Gifts for the year total $300.

Supervisor Edward Tomasello, of the Daly City Recreation department, spoke to the group on the facilities offered in the city, in the county and in San Francisco.

The P-TA voted to support any hot-lunch program initiated by the Jefferson Elementary school district.

The children will be treated to a movie, "Thunderhead, Son of Flicka," at the end of the year party at Christopher Columbus.

The Daly City Newcomers club will hold its last luncheon until fall at 1 p.m. Tuesday in the Westlake Bowl restaurant.

After the luncheon, a program on the history of Daly City will be conducted in the social hall of the Westlake Community Baptist church. Movies and slides will be shown.

Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy and Arthur J. Bodien, pioneer Daly City resident, will conduct the program.

Drugs Talk Is Planned

Psychiatrist Karl M. Bowman will speak on "Dangerous Drugs —What They Are, Their Use and Effects" at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the lecture hall of the University of California extension center, 55 Laguna street, San Francisco.

His talk will be repeated at 8 p.m., next Wednesday in 145 Dwinelle hall on the U.C. Berkeley campus.

Dr. Bowman is former head of Langley Porter Neuropsychiatric Institute, San Francisco, and is emeritus professor of psychiatry at the U.C. School of Medicine.

Fuchsia Group Sets Meeting

"Garden Specialties for 1963" will be discussed by Albert Wilson, garden authority, at Monday's meeting of the San Francisco branch of the American Fuchsia society.

Visitors are invited to attend the meeting at 8 p.m. in the Hall of Flowers, in Golden Gate park.

Club Offers 'The Mikado'

The Glee club of George Washington school will present its version of Gilbert & Sullivan's "The Mikado" at 7:30 tonight in the school auditorium. The public is invited.

Ben Franklin Has a 'Zoo'

They've got a veritable zoo going on in room 19 of Benjamin Franklin school.

Seventh grade students have brought in two field mice, two rabbits, assorted frogs, toads, mice, tadpoles, snakes and lizards.

The zoo's population jumped sharply when one of the rabbits gave birth to five bunnies.

Troop Visits Scout Camp

The girls of Brownie troop 716 had their first overnight camping experience at the Girls Scout Camp Merced in San Francisco.

Participants were: Patty Ayers, Sheila Miller, Janis O'Connel, Dorit Papelbaum, Frances Petru, Terry Price, Anita Symcowich and Robin Wells.

Mrs. Ruth Stoklosa, the troup leader and two mothers, Mrs. Gwenn Ayers and Mrs. Nancy O'Connel, accompanied the girls. The troop arrived in the camp Memorial Day Eve and were assisted by two senior Girl Scouts of troop 152 of San Francisco, Kathy Hansell and Barbara Finn.

The senior scouts showed the troop how to put up tents for the night, now to make a campfire and how to cook their own meals.

A Fly-Up ceremony for the troop will be held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday in Junipero Serra park.

Homeowners Map Session

The Hillside Homeowners Improvement club will conduct its regular monthly meeting at 7:45 p.m. Friday in room 12 of Colma K-6 school.

Class Attended

Members of the San Mateo county school Food Service association attended the advanced baking class at the Pacific Heights school recently.

Lessons were given in the school cafeteria by instructor George Muller. Yeast baking and baking for the school lunch was the main theme.

Chic Ensembles Seen At Champagne Party

By LOUANNE HEATH

Nothing makes a festive occasion truly festive or puts women in a party mood quicker than glamorous clothing.

Last Wednesday evening, many of Pacifica's leading women did much to create an aura of elegance and establish a gay party mood with their chic ensembles at the Champagne Theater party and International Ball of Pacifica's American Field Services branch.

Among the many lovely gowns which captured the eye were those of Mrs. Connie Mason and Mrs. Carl McCarthy. Mrs. Mason was stunning in a two-piece black velvet cocktail dress with a graceful scooped neck. Mrs. McCarthy also showed a preference for black velvet and selected a brown silk sheath with trim of velvet for her ensemble. Complementing the rich dark colors was her golden jewelry.

Mrs. Emilyne Green selected a pair of unique earrings of pearls and rhinestones to accent her cocktail gown of black silk and pleated white brocade.

Lovely, young Jean Fredricks, the wife of the Rev. John Fredricks, pastor of St. Edmond's Episcopal church and president of the American Field Service branch, was a charming sight in an A-line gown of avacado green peau de soie, highlighted with a topaz brooch.

Mrs. Lyle Planji was also among those who selected black. Her attractive dinner dress was of raw silk fashioned with a rounded neckline, three quarter sleeves and a box pleated skirt. Rhinestones complemented her ensemble.

Vibrant red taffeta was the choice of Mrs. Marion Ballew who drew many compliments on her two-piece cocktail dress with a boat neck, fitted bodice and full skirt.

Mrs. Florence Lorenz added a touch of the dramatic to her costume by having her hair fixed in a bouffant style, and then streaked with a band of white to harmonize with her white jewelry. Her dinner gown was a slim sheath of pink brocade.

Two others in the gay company who selected black gowns were Mrs. Minnie Mirabelli and Mrs. Nita Buchanan. Mrs. Mirabelli's cocktail dress featured a black crepe bodice with a white shirt accented with embroidered red roses and black panels.

Black lace was chosen by Mrs. Buchanan, whose dress was fashioned with a high boat neck in the front, a plunging back and a generous bouffant shirt.

A similar neck line and plunging back was worn by Mrs. Dorothy Feyge, wife of Pacifica's mayor. Mrs. Feyge's cocktail gown was a sheath of white crepe with the slightest hint of a sleeve. Rhinestones completed the costume.

Among those who wore full length ball gowns were Mrs. Ann Moore and Mrs. Joan Nelson, both of whom were stunning pictures of high fashion. Mrs. Moore's gown was designed with the slimmest of black satin skirts, slit at the back hemline, and a turtleneck gold lame bodice. For jewelry Mrs. Moore selected rhinestones.

Mrs. Nelson's gown, equally attractive, was fashioned with a very full skirt of blue velvet, and a high necked white bodice, which plunged in the back. Her only jewelry was a pair of rhinestone earrings in a teardrop setting.

Blue also was the choice of Mrs. Janice Fulford whose cocktail gown featured a sleeveless bodice with a rounded neck. With this lovely ensemble she wore a crystal solitare of elegant simplicity.

Festive gowns of peacock blue and cherry red were worn by Mrs. Tess Gladieux and Mrs. Orphie Kibbler. Mrs. Kibbler wore pearls with her peacock blue silk sheath ensemble, which was attractively fashioned with a boat neck and cap sleeves. Mrs. Gladieux's cherry colored taffeta cocktail dress was of the fashionable knee length style with a square neckline and simple, short sleeves.

A strikingly attractive two-piece cocktail dress was worn with great style by Mrs. Bernice Monin. Mrs. Monin's gown featured a knitted nylon top with a very high turtleneck and a skirt of creamy biege brocaded satin.

For accessories, she selected a rope of intertwined pearls and golden chain and pearl earrings. While traveling to the ball, she stylishly kept warm in a short white jacket with a white fox collar.

Mrs. Bob Fizer wore blue jewelry, to accentuate her blue eyes, with her full skirted gown of biege net. The bodice, obviously created to display a beautiful necklace to great advantage, was gently rounded and her sleeves were three quarter length.

An irridescent blue green brocade cocktail dress was worn by Mrs. Marion Simmons. Rhinestones glittered above the rounded jewel neckline of the fitted bodice.

Also among the style leaders were Mrs. Lorraine Regan and Mrs. Kitty Brewer. Mrs. Brewer was resplendent in a flowing blue chiffon cocktail gown with a floral print. The graceful lines of the ensemble were complemented by a draped panel, which fell free from the shoulders in the back.

Mrs. Regan's ballerina length gown of black lace was styled with a tightly fitted bodice, a V-neckline and graceful long sleeves.

Nu Sigma Holds Final Meeting

Nu Sigma, the Westlake chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, will hold its final business meeting of the year tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Frank J. McCarthy.

Final plans for the annual dance Sunday will be discussed and a picnic for members and their families will be arranged.

A tour of the art galleries and a theater party are also scheduled as social activities during the summer.

Dahlia Panel Talk Mapped

A panel discussion covering various problems of growing dahlias in the Bay Area will be conducted at 8 p.m. Tuesday by the Dahlia society of California in the Hall of Flowers, Golden Gate Park.

Panel members will include Charles White, San Francisco; Dick Schroder, Peninsula and James Rafferty, East Bay

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

MY READERS have been most generous in their letters and as a result I'll have lots of good ideas and delicious recipes to share with you for the next few weeks.

Since vegetables make so many appearances on our tables, it's nice to find a new way to prepare them. Mrs. Lee Lesher of 417 Castle street, Daly City, writes that she has used this zucchini frequently and it is very good.

ZUCCHINI FRITTATA

6 small zucchini
1 clove garlic, minced
½ cup finely chopped parsley
1 tbsp. butter or margarine
1 tbsp. bacon drippings
4 eggs
¼ cup grated parmesan cheese
1 tsp. salt
½ tsp. pepper

Chop zucchini fine. Saute the zucchini, garlic and parsley in the melted butter and bacon drippings for five minutes. Beat eggs slightly, add cheese, salt and pepper, stir into the vegetable mixture. Turn into a buttered 10-inch round baking dish. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 30 minues or until set. Cut in wedges. Serves six.

☆ ☆ ☆

The dessert that Lee sent me received high praise from her. She says she has made it oodles of times and it is delicious. It is interesting too. Your guests will never guess that soda crackers are the main ingredient of this crunchy torte that is served in pie-shaped wedges.

CRUNCH TORTE

3 egg whites
¼ tsp. cream of tartar
½ tsp. vanilla
17 salted soda crackers
1 cup sugar
½ cup chopped nut meats

Beat egg whites until frothy, add cream of tartar and beat until stiff. Beat in flavoring. Crush soda crackers by pressing between your hands or rolling lightly with rolling pin. They should not be too fine. Mix with sugar. Fold in the egg whites. Add nut meats. Pour into greased nine-inch pie pan and bake 30 minutes in a slow oven (325 degrees). Cut in wedges and serve with whipped cream. Serves six.

ANOTHER nice letter came from Mrs. Eileen Spears of 160 Westmoor avenue, Daly City, and she included a family favorite. She writes: "The markets have nice rhubarb lately and I was just getting ready to put this dish together and I thought of you." Eileen has contributed recipes to this column before and I'm surely happy that she thinks of us when she has one she specially likes.

RHUBARB CRUNCH

Crumb topping:
1 cup sifted flour
3/4 cup uncooked rolled oats
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
½ cup melted butter or margarine
1 tsp. cinnamon
Fruit mixture:
4 cups diced rhubarb
1 cup sugar
2 tbsp. cornstarch
1 cup water
1 tsp. vanilla

Mix together crumb topping ingredients until crumbly. Press half of crumbs into greased nine-inch layer pan. Cover with rhubarb.

In small saucepan, combine sugar, cornstarch, water and vanilla. Cook, stirring until thick and clear. Pour over rhubarb. Top with remaining crumbs.

Bake in moderate oven for one hour. Cut in squares and serve warm, plain or with whipped cream. Makes eight servings. (Eileen adds that her family likes sour cream with this.)

Post Office Releases Pamphlet

Abraham Lincoln's colorful and controversial postmaster general, Montgomery Blair, is the subject of a new post office department publication, presented to the Daly City library by Postmaster Vincent P. Murphy of Daly City.

The 44-page pamphlet is being issued by the post office department as part of its centennial celebration of the Paris conference of 1863.

The Paris conference, held at the suggestion of Montgomery Blair, was the first international conference on postal problems and led to the founding of the Universal Postal union, which regulates the handling of international mail.

Although he ran the post office department during the chaotic Civil War period, Blair was responsible for some of the most important mail handling innovations in the country's history.

He introduced free delivery of mail in cities, the money order system, and the railway post office to assemble and distribute mail en route.

Blair was one of President Lincoln's closest and most trusted advisors. He had enormous ability, but he was also a strong-willed man with a tendency to mind other people's business.

He infuriated other cabinet members by constantly offering them gratuitous advice on how to run their departments. Lincoln was finally forced to fire Blair to retain the support of the postmaster general's many enemies in ihs fight for re-election.

Postmaster Murphy said that copies of the Montgomery Blair pamphlet can be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C., for 25 cents a copy.

Coast Couple Marks Silver Anniversary

Celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary recently were Mr. and Mrs. James Kafantaris of 1263 Galvez drive, Pacifica.

An early resident of Linda Mar, Jim Kafantaris has been active serving with the city as vice chairman of the personnel advisory board.

The Kafantarises were honored at a dinner party at the home of their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Desmond, 603 Miller avenue, Pacifica. They are planning a second honeymoon soon in Carmel.

The anniversary couple, who were married at St. Agnes church in San Francisco, have two other children, John, 19, a heavy equipment mechanic with the U. S. Navy Seabees, and Diane, 7, a student at Sanchez school. They have two grandchildren. Elizabeth and Laura Desmond.

Troop Enjoys Chinatown Trip

Brownie Troop 59 recently enjoyed a tour of Chinatown. Chingwah Lee escorted the girls on a two-hour walking tour.

The girls visited the Chinese telephone exchange, the Buddhist temple and the Chinese newspaper. Lee also displayed his jade collection. The tour ended with lunch at the Good Earth.

Mrs. Edna Leonard, leader, and Mrs. Nora Seibert, co-leader, accompanied these girls: Denise Dirickson, Julie Duling, Marion Gonzales, Amy Hall, Barbara Judd, Lori Kaplan, Peggy Leonard, Janice Phemester, Linda Repetti, Nancy Seibert, Donna Smith, Michelle Sosa, Kathy Summa and Sharon Tainter.

Mrs. Emmy Sosa and Mrs. Lola Repetti also chaperoned the girls.

U.S. Title Promotes 2 Executives

Kenneth R. Harder and John A. Ring have been elected assistant vice presidents of U. S. Title and Guaranty company, according to C. G. Knoerzer, president.

Harder was born in Southern California and moved to the Peninsula in 1931. He attended grammer school in Palo Alto, and after moving to New York with his parents, attended high school and college there. During World War II, he served three and a half years in the Pacific with the U. S. Navy.

For the past 16 years, Harder has been employed in sales and public relations. He joined the staff of U. S. Title in November of 1961 as a public relations representative in the north and south areas of San Mateo county.

At present, he lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hallock Harder, in Redwood City.

Coast Lots Are Readied

The first unit in the Coastside residential development, Willow Brook Estates, is nearing completion.

Located in Pedro Valley adjacent to Linda Mar, the new site will contain 113 quarter-acre estate-size lots. Lots will range in price from $4590 to $7250.

Land preparation for the initial 38 units is being directed by Coast Range Development company and Sea Village Associates, Linda Mar realtors, agents for the project.

Hal Nelson, president of Coast Range, said that utility installation, including city streets, water and sewers, is being finished.

Utility requirements and home sites have been designed by Wilsey, Ham and Blair of Millbrae, engineers and planners.

The new development is intersected by small streams. Some homesites will be situated on high ground with a view of the Pacific ocean. Others will be located in protected valley areas.

9 Permits Are Given

Family rooms and kitchen remodeling projects dominated permits issued by the Daly City Building Inspector's office last week.

Of nine permits, five of them were for additions of family rooms and two of them were for kitchen remodeling jobs.

Permits for construction estimated at $13,160, were issued to:

Roy Pasini, 52 Westpark drive, to add family room and playroom.

T. D. Hansen, 108 Brooklawn, to add extra room.

A. Nicolini, 1087 Skyline drive, to add rumpus room in basement.

Henry Jenichen, 285 Verano drive, to add family room.

Jesse Lupe, 90 Frankfort street, to add family room.

Wayne Mohyhun, 226 Hillside boulevard, to remodel kitchen.

C. B. Hershman, 49 Lake Vista avenue, to install kitchen cabinets.

Duffy's Tavern, 6390 Mission street, to install sign.

Morris Plan Dividend Set

At the regular meeting of the board of directors of The Morris Plan company, a quarterly dividend of 50 cents per share was declared payable June 15 to stockholders of record June 3, according to an announcement by Ralph N. Larson, president.

The meeting was held in Richmond where Morris Plan opened a new office in February in order that directors might attend open-house ceremonies after the meeting.

Crocker-Anglo Sets Payment

The board of directors of Crocker-Anglo bank have declared a dividend of 35 cents per share on the bank's capital stock, it was announced by chairman of the board Paul E. Hoover, the bank's chief executive officer.

The dividend is for the three months period beginning April 1 and ending June 30.

Builders to Hold Annual Conference

Described as the "best builder information bargain in the West," the fifth annual Pacific Coast Builders conference and Product Exhibit will convene June 18 at the Fairmont hotel, San Francisco

Conference President Donal H. Stoneson of San Francisco said the three-day series of panel discussions and lectures by nationally known authorities on all phases of building is "a great close-to-home opportunity for western builders to get the latest information on all key phases of their business."

The conference speakers' lineup includes:

Actor Ronald Reagan, who will deliver the conference keynote address; William Blackfield, San Francisco, vice president of the National Association of Home Builders; Ralph M. Lewis, Los Angeles, president of the Building Contractors' Association of California.

Robert A. Olin, Pomona, president of the Home Builders' council of California, official sponsor of the conference; William Nickerson, Alamo, Calif., author and lecturer in the real estate field; Stanley Edge, Washington, D.C., consumer research and marketing specialist.

Kelly Snow, Palo Alto; Jack Schwartz, Beverly Hills and Frank W. Callahan, San Francisco, executive vice president of the Home Builders' Council of California.

The builder products and services exhibit, running concurrently with the conference, will feature displays from more than 100 firms, according to John Droge, Los Angeles, chairman of the Exhibitors' Advisory committee.

The conference is open to builders and representatives of related enterprises, including real estate and finance, at $25 per registrant. The fee includes wives who will have a special program organized under the chairmanship of Mrs. Paul C. Petersen of Los Altos.

Receives Degree

Homework For Pupil

That he did!

Figone, who has been studying photography for almost three years at Jefferson, took his camera and spent two weekends at the Colma school playground.

After the initial shock of a camera invading their domain, the children went back to their natural state of burning excess energy on the twisted mass of pipes and metal of a playground.

Class Leaders

Terra Nova Project Is Published

Kim Post, a senior at Terra Nova High school last year, and his science teacher, Robert Delzell, have had the results of a joint research project published in the May issue of "The Science Teacher."

The project was an outgrowth of a senior research program at Terra Nova in which Kim was enrolled last year.

The subject was the widely used mathematical concept of significant figures as it is applied to scientific measurement.

The results of the study cast serious doubt on the significance of "significant figures" as a useful concept in science, observers say.

Post graduated from Terra Nova last year with high honors. He is enrolled as a full time student at the University of California. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Post of 1015 Anza drive, Pacifica.

Quarterly Meet Set

Westside Baptist church will conduct its quarterly business meeting at 6:30 this evening in the auditorium of Southwood Junior High school in South San Francisco.

A fellowship pot-luck dinner will be served. New members since January 1 will be honored.

A realty committee will give a report on the progress of a search for a new church site. The board of deacons also has several recommendation on a site.

At the 11 a.m. Sunday worship service, the Rev. A. David Donnelly will speak on "Coming Down to Jesus."

At the 7 p.m. Evening Gospel Hour, his message will be on: "The All Sufficient Christ."

Doyle Young, in charge of summer camp promotion, will outline registration procedures.

Teenage Jaycees Set Job Session

The Daly City-Colma Teen-age Junior Chamber of Commerce has received so many letters concerning summer jobs, they have not been able to answer all of them, according to Diane Davidson, publicity chairman.

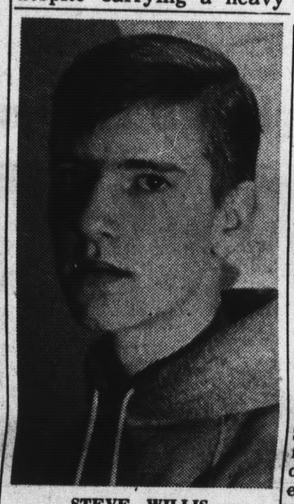
The chamber plans to hold a meeting for all those teens still interested in jobs at Colma school, Saturday, at noon.

Applications will be handed out and filed.

Lehre, Abbott Take Top Honors

Top honors of valedictorian and salutatorian for Westmoor's graduating class of 1963 were claimed by Ken Lehre and Roye Abbott, respectively, at the awards assembly last week.

Lehre stands first academically in a class of 265 despite carrying a heavy course schedule which includes: analytic geometry, English, German, physics, and sociology.



STEVE WILLIS
New President

A life member of the California scholarship federation and president of the Science club, Ken also received recognition at the assembly as a recipient of a scholarship from the California Savings and Loan league.

Higher learning in the field of theoretical physics will occupy Ken's immediate future. He plans to attend the University of California in Berkeley.

For his academic endeavors for the past four years, Roye Abbott has earned the title of class salutatorian.

This past semester Abbott participated in the San Francisco State college program which offers classes to the top fifteen students of high school senior classes. Here he delved into biology and lab work.

His weekday mornings are spent on the Westmoor campus in English, civic, and U. S. history classes.

Abbott plans to work for at least a year after graduation. He hopes eventually to write hunting and fishing stories.

Willis Wins Top Position

Willis, who made the All-NPL basketball team last season, succeeds Lowell Williams to the top student position.

Also elected were Linda Laureano, vice president; Linda McGown, secretary; Carol Liberato, treasurer; Robert Mollassi, commissioner of rallies; and Gary Ciolino, commissioner of entertainment.

The new officers took their oath of office at a rally assembly.

Four open positions on the executive board will be filled by appointment next semester.

MOWER TAKEN

Harry Barrick of 7301 Mission street reported to Daly City police over the weekend that a gasoline - powered lawn mower had been stolen from the rear of his home. He said the machine was valued at $50.

Teenager Asks . . .

By JOE BAVARESCO

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

I am a 14-year-old girl and my parents say I must be home by 11 p.m. on weekends and that I cannot go out on a school night. There are teen clubs on week nights and I know a lot of girls who go and on Friday and Saturday they don't have to be in until 12 or 12:30. How can I convince them it is all right for me to go out during the week like the others? I feel like a prisoner.

Shut In.

Dear Shut In:

Your parents have more brains than you have. There is no excuse for staying out later than 11 p.m. and no excuse at all for going out during the week. I don't care how many girls you know who do.

You won't truly benefit from this for many years yet, but some day when you compare yourself to those girls who come in at 12 and 12:30, you will be a grateful human being.

Any parent who would allow their 14-year-old daughter to come in at 12:30 a.m. are failures as parents and worst of all, are failures in the eyes of their teenagers.

You may think this is really old - fashioned, but listen my friend, faith is pretty old-fashioned too, and if you don't start having faith in what your parents say, you will be one sorry little girl. Be glad your parents care enough about you to care about your future. They are looking out for your reputation and self-respect.

Don't think of now only, think also about tomorrow. If these girls are staying out until 12:30 now, what will they be at 16, 18 and 21 years of age?

The hour of 11 p.m. is more than enough for a Friday or Saturday night. You have your whole life ahead of you. Don't try to squeeze it all into 14 years.

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

We guys feel you really hit it on the head about teen-age drinking. So, a group of us were talking and we decided you would be good to go to and discuss girls' smoking. Smoking in the streets and smoking while talking. Being a man, we are sure you agree this is very sickening. So could you give some advice to the girls about it?

E. R. and Friends

Dear E. R. and Friends:

You are the ones who hit it on the head. Yes, I do agree. Girls who smoke in the streets belong in the streets. It's a very cheap thing to do and even cheaper to watch. Smoking used to be a man's habit, not a woman's.

But, like so many things, it too has been taken over by the females. I am waiting for the day girls smoke pipes.

Don't get me wrong, there is a nice and pleasant way to smoke and then there is a bad way to smoke.

Here are some do's and don'ts for smoking girls and guys:

Don't smoke in a public place.

Don't smoke while talking to anyone

Dont' smoke at the dinner table (before or after dinner).

Don't smoke in a room that is not well ventilated.

Do smoke after asking permission when in another person's home.

Do smoke after checking to make sure no one is allergic.

Do smoke only in places that are acceptable and have receptacles.

Do smoke only when you know you don't look like a fool.

A good way to know what you look like is to sit in front of a full length mirror and smoke an entire cigarette. You will see all your own faults. Of course, the best way of all is to stop smoking entirely.

Girls, if you want to see what you look like to a guy when you smoke, mess up your hair, put mud on your face and smoke a cigar.

Have you ever been introduced to someone for the first time and have them talk with a cigarette in their mouth, blowing smoke while they are talking to you?

Well, it happens all the time. It not only looks bad, but you just lost a friend. Remember, respect is a very delicate thing. It can be burned by a cigarette.

Ten-agers! If you have problems or questions you'd like discussed, you may send them to me, care of The Post, or simply to Joe Bavaresco, Camp Meeker, Calif.

Westmoor Whirl

WITH JUST SEVEN DAYS left of school, 'tis the season for many "lasts": the last Rampage, the last assembly, the last Science club meeting, the last daily bulletin (we've heard 172 to date), and the last column.

Every day and every activity heralds the end of another hectic year. Term papers are suddenly due. book check day uncovers the sins of those who have committed mayhem with their texts, and teachers are being reminded to turn in their audio-visual materials and equipment.

Seniors will always remember last week's picnic at Turtle Rock Ranch, although now their minds are on that night of all nights next Friday. They just completed payments on caps 'n gowns last Friday — so how could they forget?) Juniors will celebrate unofficially this Saturday . . . June 12 and 13 will be "minimum session" days with dismissal shortly after noon.

Always a highlight of the last days is the Awards assembly, held last week; always a non-highlight of the last days are final exams, held next week. The juniors won't mind, though—they're still dazzled and starry-eyed with triumph ever since they won the coveted perpetual spirit trophy.

RAMSVILLE AT RANDOM: Conscientious historials of the World War I era were righteously indignant over the recent cafeteria menu that announced "Hot Dogs and Sauerkraut" instead of "Liberty Sausages and Liberty Cabbage."

Distributed to several English classes was the interesting literary supplement to Forum, a periodical publication privately produced, directed, and edited by one Bill Pope, a WHS senior. Lofty critics hope the provocative pieces in Forum will not spell financial ruin for Ramifications, the school literary magazine that appeared this week.

CLUB NOTES: Roving Frenchmen had a most high-brow evening last week at the Opera House, where they saw "Madame Butterfly"—in Italian, mais oui. Next day, they returned to French with the help of the "Treasures of Versailles" collection at the Palace of the Legion of Honor . . . students and teachers from the four corners of WHS were irresistably drawn to the strumming guitars and the Latin rhythms issuing forth from the Spanish "singalong" last Wednesday. Even the non-speakers of Spanish joined in on such favorites as "Cielito Lindo" and "El Rancho Grande."

Baby-Sitting Training Session Set by Y-Teens

The junior high Y - Teen girls will hold a baby sitting training meeting on Saturday at 9 a.m. in the Westmoor Park clubhouse, according to publicity director Dorothy Orson.

Following the training session, there will be a mother-daughter tea at 1 p.m. The Y-Teen clubs are sponsored by the YWCA.

The Y-Ten planning committee for this event is Marilyn Tingley and Bertie Ellis of Colma Upper school and Kathy Abrahamson of Benjamin Franklin school.

The ethics of baby sitting, safety factors in child care, child development and simple ways to amuse children will be included in the training session.

Speakers covering various phases of the program will be Pat Martinez, Suzanne White and Jessie West.

Colored slides on health and safety factors pertaining to the care of children will be shown, accompanied by a commentary. Pamphlets will bee available containing safety information and questions every sitter should ask of parents concerning their household arrangements for proper care of their children.

A model will be used for demonstrations on the correct way to pick up an infant, how to burp a baby and change a diaper and other clothing. Practice with the model will allow the girls some practical knowledge about handling a baby.

The importance of their job responsibilities as baby sitters will be emphasized in the training. The names of the Y-Ten girls who complete the training will be kept on file in the YWCA office.

Anyone interested in securing a baby sitter may phone the "YW" office at PL 6-7370 and the "Y" will try to give you the name of a sitter in your neighborhood.

Ram Exchange Student Gets Ready for Italy

By SHERRY ROSEN

"I just gave a shriek," recalls WHS junior Mary Jane Putz, remembering her immediate reaction to notification by the American Field Service that she will travel to Italy this summer.

After arriving in New York by chartered plane on June 26, Mary Jane and other Bay Area students in the AFS "Americans "Abroad" program will travel on board the "Seven Seas" to Rotterdam for the second leg of the journey.

Although much information is still on its way, Mary Jane has already received photographs of her Italian family and a letter describing her summer home.

Ancona, Italy, is a relatively small coastal town with a harbor and industries. In the summer it caters to many tourists.

Dr. and Mrs. Ginseppe Di Doneto, her foster parents, live on a hill above the town and have a view of the sea and faraway hills.

Dr. Di Doneto is director of a government institution to help hand workers; he and Mrs. Di Doneto, a housewife, have three daughters.

Marisa, the eldest, attends the university and has an artistic temperament.

Gloria is in her second year at classical high school. She is a good student who is particularly fond of sports, especially track and swimming.

Grazia, in her second year of scientific high school, is also a good student and likes to read. Marisa and Gloria both can speak fair English.

Already immersed in preparations for her trip, Mary Jane is teaching herself Italian. She is reading recommended books on foreign relations and about America, and she plans to take along an almanac to have facts at her fingertips.

She recently attended a conference with other AFS finalists at Cubberley High school, where a Peace Corps representative discussed the importance of answering questions about the U. S. frankly and honestly.

Frequent seminars on board the ship will complete the training for her AFS summer abroad.

AND CHURCH ACTIVITIES OF DALY CITY, COLMA AND PACIFICA

Missionary Handshake

Donut Sale To Benefit Organ Fund

The results of month-long donut order campaign will be lined up in individual paper-bags Sunday morning on tables outside the courtyard entrance to Broadmoor Presbyterian Church.

Alphabetically-arranged and appetizing, the baker's dozen donuts have been ordered by church members, friends and neighbors as a fund-raising campaign to aid the Margaret Pauline Brown Memorial Organ Fund at the church.

An order of donuts will be a dollar donation to the fund. Donuts will be baked and donated by the George Pappas family, proprietors of Jerry's Donut Shop in San Francisco.

Members of four choirs at Broadmoor have been taking orders and marking purchasers' names on printed paper bags.

The bags will be taken to the donut shop late Saturday night, where the Pappases, assisted by members of the adult choir, will bake and pack the donuts for delivery to the church the next morning.

Purchasers have been requested to pick up their donuts between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. Sunday.

Chairman of the organ fund is Rodman T. Barnes who has reported that over $6000 had been contributed or pledged to the drive so far.

The drive for pledges will continue through June 30. After that date, additional funds will be raised through individual church group money-raising activities. The goal is $10,000.

Members of the organ fund committee have been visiting organ installations and manufacturer's representatives throughout the Bay Area to determine the make and type of organ that will best fit the budget and physical layout of the church.

Committee members include Charlette Spruiell, Lillian McLeod, Kay Mattson, Shirley Pappas, Dorothy Spratt, Kenneth and Bunny Gillespie, Linda Floyd, Kathy Leach, Boris Stephen, Henry Suenderman the Reverend Herbert Tweedie and Delmar Severy.

Sunday will mark the final twin morning services at Broadmoor Presbyterian church until the middle of September.

Starting June 16, a single service will be conducted each Sunday from 10 to 11 a.m. during the summer. Sunday school sessions will continue through the summer.

Men's Club to Elect Officers

Temple Judea Men's club will hold its annual election of officers at a meting tomorrow evening, Robert Miller, president, has announced.

After the election refreshments will be served and a football film, "49'er Highlights of 1962," will be shown.

WESTLAKE BAPTIST

Salvation Army Chaplain to Talk

The Reverend Frank Tiernan, chaplain and clinical director of the Salvation Army's Men's Social Service Center, will conduct the morning and evening services at the Westlake Community Baptist Church Sunday in the absence of the Reverend Hansel Stembridge Jr., pastor.

The Rev. Mr. Stembridge is visiting his son, H. Hansel III, in Atlanta where the son is attending school.

The morning service will be centered on the Rev. Mr. Tiernan's own story of rehabilitation, which started with an organization helping him; his joining of the church four years later; his attendance at the seminary and Berkeley Baptist Divinity school; his clinical training at a prison in Tracy, and at Napa State hospital; his ministry at the First Baptist church in Brisbane and his present position with the Salvation Army.

The evening service at 7:30 will feature a film concerning his work, "The Big Return," which will precede a discussion period.

The Rev. Mr. Tiernan's staff includes a psychologist, vocational guidance counsellors, a part-time psychiatrist, a professor of pastorial psychology, a registered nurse, a staff engaged in compiling case histories and making follow up compilations six months later, students from theological seminaries and students from San Francisco State college who are training to become ministers, psychologists, or rehabilitation counselors.

Church Greets 7 New Families

"Nice People or New People" will be the sermon theme given by Pastor Kenneth Hansen, at Westlake Lutheran church, 2222 Avalon Drive, Sunday.

Seven new families will be received into the church at the worship service.

A stand-up luncheon for the congregation will be given by the youth of the church following the service. The young people will present a panel discussion on "Troubled Teens and Perplexed Parents."

Three-fifths of the widows in the United States are 65 or older.

ROYALTY, of sorts, will pretty much dominate the scene in the north county tonight. By royalty, we don't mean that brand of titular pomp and circumstance that rules nations.

In this instance, it's a very regal class of feminine beauty and personality. We're speaking, of course, of Daly City's annual Miss Daly City pageant.

This eye-opening extravaganza, which seems to get better every year, gets into gear at the South San Francisco Elks club. The fact that Daly City's top annual event is held in another city might raise a few eyebrows but it shouldn't.

It's a matter of room and it seems Daly City doesn't have just the right size and type of hall to accommodate everybody who's probably going to show up.

And from what we've been hearing around town, a mob seems to be in the offing.

And if it isn't, it should be. For this is one blue-ribbon event of the year that should stir the community spirit of every Daly City resident.

Why, do you ask? Here's why.

There's a popular misconception around that Daly City is strictly a bedroom for San Francisco. That is, everybody out here by the ocean works in the big city, is wrapped up in the politics, problems and trivia of the big city and doesn't give a hoot about what's going on up the street or around the corner from where they live.

Daly City folk, in other words, stream home from the garguantua to the north and ignore their surroundings.

Well, it sounds knowing and you hear it around —mostly from those short-sighted people who just haven't bothered to really see what's going on. But it ain't necessarily so.

To lay bare the fallacy of this conception would take a listing of only a few examples of civic projects, campaigns, drives and the like that the multitude of community-conscious organizations in Daly City carry out every year.

To absolutely eradicate the misconception, we'll merely point to the Miss Daly City pageant.

Here's an event that epitomizes not only in its name but in every aspect of the planning and organization the idea that Daly City folk DO care about their community and DO get hepped up about a community-wide event.

That's why when five young ladies step into the spotlight tonight, a packed house should be on hand to roar its support.

For sometime during the evening one reign will end and another will begin and when it does, the New Miss Daly City will want to feel that she does, indeed, represent ALL of Daly City. Let's make sure there's no doubt about that.

THE THORNTON Beach area is a veritable beehive of activity these days and it all augurs well for the beach crowd.

The State Department of Beaches and Parks is finishing up the construction of rest rooms and is working on a stairway from the parking lot to the beach below.

Indications are that the whole business should be ready for the peak summer crowds.

Of course, we're not going to get any peak summer crowds unless some sort of resemblance to summer weather arrives in the North County. Sombody should start lobbying the weather bureau for our share of old sol. Up until this week. it's been a case of rank discrimination.

Maybe the official arrival of summer in another ten days will stir things up. Like a cold spell and a fortnight of fog.

SMOKE (COUGH RINGS) — Joe Bavaresco, the man at the helm of Teen-ager asks, our new column of advice for teen-agers, has a few choice words today about young ladies — and ladies in general — who smoke. He offers a few hints on common courtesy that all smokers should display.

Well, we've got a few observations to offer in this department, all of which you might lump under the general title of: "The Non-Smoker Can't Win."

For instance, why is it that you walk into a restaurant, carefully gauge the prevailing air currents and then astutely pick out a seat at the counter that isn't downwind from a smoker, only to have a veritable furnace barrel in and sit immediately next to — and upwind — from you?

Or why is it when you're in a group of people around a table and the ash trays are so abundant they outnumber the knives and forks, yet this guy next to you leans over to emphasize a point, ash-laden cigarette in hand, and ashes cascade onto your freshly cleaned and pressed suit?

Or why is it at the big family reunion dinner when you've just come down with a cold and that's the time Uncle Horace picks to exhume one of those El Sootos from a big black box and light up —sending fearful clouds of dense smoke straight into your tender nostrils?

And finally, why is it that you're the guy who's standing at the rail at Bay Meadows, program in hand and spanking new raincoat on your back and suddenly you smell smoke and you discover it's your raincoat quietly smoldering from a cigarette some horse addict brushed against you in the press of humanity at the finish line area?

Well, you know what we mean. There just oughta be a SPCSAB for non-smokers. (That's Society for the Prevention of Cigarette Smoke and Burns.)

CREDIT WHERE CREDIT IS . . . If you hadn't gone beyond a pat press release issued by the Federal Bureau of Investigation the other day, you would've got the impression that those big bookie raids in the north county were largely the work of the FBI.

Which couldn't have been farther from the real dope. It was strictly a team effort, as we bannered in a top story last week, and more specifically, a joint Daly City police-FBI venture.

Understandably, any local police administration is going to be miffed when they see somebody else grabbing all the credit for something the local guys helped bust wide open.

We're not saying the federals wanted to grab all the spotlight. It's just that what they got out in an official release made it look as if they were the prime force in the investigation.

Our thanks to Lt. Dave Hansen of the local guys in blue who detailed to reporter Ron Bates just what role Daly City police played in the whole investigation.

The air has been considerably clearer as a result.

CYCLE CHECK—Seven-year-old Mark Racette of 74 Fairlawn avenue watches carefully as Patrolman Robert Crooker of the Daly City police department adjusts the sprocket mechanism of his bike during an inspection program at Olympia school. The check was one of a series of bicycle inspection programs carried on by the department and Parent-Teacher associations throughout the year. (Post-Times Photo).

Coast Teachers Ask Pay Hike

Laguna Salada elementary school teachers claimed last week they are being paid less than truckdrivers, painters, glaziers, and roofers.

Roland Finken, president of the Laguna Salada Education association, said a study reveals that district pays workmen at rates "considerably higher than the $5640 average yearly rate for the 38 additional teachers" needed for next year.

Finken quotes figures reported by a finance committee of the Jefferson Classroom Teachers' association.

Using district advertised contract rates as comparison, the committee found that teamsters were being paid at a rate equal to $7332 per year, painters at a rate equal to $7407 per year, glaziers at an hourly rate equivalent to $8091 per year, and roofers at a scale equal to $8216 per year.

"We sincerely hope that the citizens of Pacifica value the building of minds as highly as the construction of needed new buildings," said Finken.

The educational association is seeking 1963-64 pay scales of "a truly professional level" and "in line with the 4-5 per cent average increase for 27 Bay Area school districts."

Blood Bank Sets Visit To School

The Peninsula Memorial Blood bank's mobile unit will make its second visit to the Pacific Heights school, in San Bruno, on Monday, from 3 p.m. to 7 p.m. for the George Sanchez Memorial blood fund.

The George Sanchez Memorial blood fund was established by the students and P-TA of the Pacific Heights school in memory of George Sanchez, who was a student of that school.

Free baby-sitting will be available at the school for all donors. Also free transportation for those needing it can be obtained by calling Mrs. C. Clarke Williams, health chairman, 3151 Fasman drive, San Bruno.

The George Sanchez Blood fund is available for the use of any resident of the Pacific Heights community in San Bruno by calling Mrs. Williams or the Peninsula Memorial Blood bank, 697-4034.

Vandals Rob Oceana High

Young thieves looking for money broke into Oceana High school at Pacifica Thursday, jimmying eight doors and scattering records, but doing little actual damage.

Cash missing totaled $2.50, according to Principal Ernest Ribera.

Police said the thieves broke in some time during the night and entered the main office and offices of the principal, vice principal, registrar, and girl's dean. Desks were rifled in some cases, but most records were untouched.

Ribera said there were apparently at least two burglars, because one office had been broken into from both sides, possibly in a contest to see who was fastest at jimmying.

He said the auto shop had been broken into, and an attempt made to enter the electric shop. The door to the electric shop was jammed so thoroughly in the attempt that school officials were unable to open it today.

An attempt was made to enter the school snack bar, also.

Police theorized that the thieves were young because any adult would know there is little chance of much cash being found in a school.

EGGS THROWN

VANDALISM REPORTED

Vandals broke several windows and electric lights in Woodrow Wilson school last week, Daly City police reported. Three young boys were questioned as suspects, police said.

Candidates For Degree Are Named

They are among 495 candidates for the associate in arts degree. The total is 60 more than the record class of 1962. The total includes 150 students who completed their academic work at CSM in January.

Commencement exercises will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, June 16, in the auditorium of San Mateo High school in San Mateo.

A half hour musical program will precede the academic process of guests, faculty and graduates at 3 p.m.

C. Mansel Keene, assistant chancellor for faculty and staff affairs for California State colleges, will speak on: "Into the Wild Blue Yonder With Our Feet on the Ground."

Daly City candidates for degrees are: Robert Ian Carlson, Ernie J. Chiappari, Steven G. enright, Christopher Hanson, Glenn C. Hot, Marilyn J. Laskey, John H. Marshall Jr., Richard H. Peters, David V. Rame, Carlos M. Rodriguez, Mary Scheremetow, Jerry Owen Sifford, Val Hugh Tompkins, Donald F. Wood, Michael E. Wright and Nick V. Santamaria.

S.M. Judges Bill Passes Committee

The legislation sponsored by Richard J. Dolwig (R-San Mateo county) to create two new superior court judges and one new municipal court judge in northern San Mateo county has been approved by the senate finance committee and is now on consent calendar awaiting passage on the senate floor.

Senator Dolwig said Saturday that the senate vote on SB1867 and 1868, because of the finance committee approval despite a recommendation from the judicial council for only one judge, will be routine, San Mateo county now only has seven superior court judges.

Consent calendar is a legislative device whereby bills that are non-controversial are lumped together for final passage by the senate with a single vote, although technically all receive individual votes.

If any senator wishes to challenge any bill, however, that measure comes off consent and must be explained in full and a second and third reading is held.

Reporting on progress of other bills he is sponsoring, Senator Dolwig said that SB 1511, raising the salary of court reporters to $10,680 annually, has received a do pass recommendation from the senate committee on local government and has been placed on the consent calendar.

First Safety Awards Are Announced

The Safety committee of Daly City has announced its first awards for suggestions on safety procedures submitted by employes of the city.

Suggestions are compiled monthly.

These employes received $10 checks for a number of suggestions they submitted:

Lt. David Hansen of the police department and John Castagnola and Ronald Kuchac of the fire department.

The awards were made through the co-operation of the North San Mateo County Insurance Agents association.

County Planners Irked, Amused By Jury Report

County planners worked up quite a bit of steam and indulged themselves in a few yuks over the 1962 county Grand Jury report, which was submitted to them last week.

County Manager E. R. Stallings had asked the commission to give its opinions of the report so that he could compile a list of replies to submit to the 1963 grand pury.

The process started smoothly enough. The first recommendation considered was that a member of the board of supervisors sit in on commission meetings. It was agreed that the jury would be told that this was done until two years ago when the supervisors decided they could not spare the time. But the board is welcome to send a representative if it desires, it was agreed.

The next recommendation was that the commissioners not get their $40 meeting fee for "part time" attndanc.

"That is the most stupid statement that was ever put out." exploded Commissioner Robert Levy. "What does 'part time' mean? If a member leaves a meeting 15 minutes early, should he not be paid?"

Levy pointed out that the members attend many more meetings and field trips than the three a month for which they are paid. Glaude Hirschey agreed.

"I don't think they were justified in making a statement like that," he decalred.

It was agreed that an attendance record will be sent along with the commission's reply.

This was the next jury recommendation:

"The planning department should strive to serve all applicants impartially and in the best interest of the whole community. All factors of human, social, cultural, athletic, political, administrative and economic nature should be thoroughly considered."

"What does that mean?" Levy asked.

"I don't know," Larz Anderson, acting planning director, replied.

"The Grand Jury should give us an interpreter along with their recommendations," Levy said.

"Does this infer," asked Commissioner Merritt G. Snyder, "that we don't treat applicants on an impartial basis?"

The next recommendation started out:

"The planning commission should study the population density in East Palo Alto . . ."

"Now I know," Snyder interrupted, "that they don't know what in hell they're talking about."

It was agreed that a copy of the commission's master plan for East Palo Alto will be sent along with the reply.

Another recommendation that East Palo Alto should have publicly built low cost housing developments was deemed not to be within the jurisdiction of the commission.

Coast Unit Announces Staff Moves

Paul Eckels, curriculum consultant for the Laguna Salada School district, will be principal next term at the new Cabrillo school. John Jacobs, assistant rincipal at the Sanchez School, will be the new principal at Vallemar school, and Richard Ault, curriculum consultant for the district.

These appointments were announced by Superintendent Fred Lucas, and have been confirmed by the school board.

Eckles has been with the district three years, two years as an assistant principal at the Sharp Park school, and the current year as a curriculum consultant for the district.

He came to this district from Live Oak, Calif., where he was principal of the elementary school.

He received his teacher training at Pasadena college and the University of California and received his M. A. in supervision and administration at Chico State college.

Jacobs

Jacobs has been an assistant principal in the district for three years, one year at Vallemar school and the past two years at Sanchez school.

Jacobs came to the Laguna Salada district from Gerber, Calif. where he was teacher and vice principal for seven years. Jacobs received his teacher training at the University of San Francisco, University of California and Chico State college.

He received his M. A. in elementary administration from Humboldt State college. Mr: Jacobs and his wife, Beverly, live in Linda Mar with their three children, Michele, Mary and John.

Ault

Ault has been with the district three years. The new curriculum consultant has served as assistant principal at Pacific Manor school and Pedro Valley school.

Fire Officers Attend Course

Two Daly City Fire Department training officers, Battalion Chief Melvin Hanson and Captain Richard May, attended the annual fire training officers course at Fresno, Calif.

The course was conducted by the California State Department of Industrial Education, division of fire training.

Purpose of the course was to bring the training officers up to date on the science of fire fighting, and to improve their teaching methods and techniques.

The course was limited to a week with eight hours of classroom instruction each day.

One day was spent in the field, where various methods of extinguishment and rescue procedures were demonstrated.

High light of the demonstration was the extinguishment of a fire in a large building by fog application.

Chief Attends Convention

Daly City Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy was appointed chairman of the California Fire Chief's committee on fireworks at the annual convention last month in Bijou, California.

The committee is charged with developing legislation to prohibit the sale of fireworks in California.

Some of the other subjects discussed at the convention were: Utilization of manpower in the fire department, the standard grading schedule, intra-department communications and fire chiefs' place in planning.

Kennedy said he obtained "a great deal of usable knowledge" from the convention.

Approve Survey For S.M. College

State Senator Richard J. Dolwig (R-San Mateo county) last week won another skirmish in his battle with the State Co-ordinating Council for Higher Education for establishment of a San Mateo county state college.

Faced with a "silent veto" through Governor Brown's refusal to give S.B 52, the state college money bill, an urgency letter, Dolwig went before the Senate Finance committee and won approval of his demand that the council re-examine its recommendation for delay, and to report to the legislature at the end of 1963.

Dolwig said when Governor Brown refused to issue an urgency letter for the bill, this killed any chance of there being a vote in the Senate Finance committee on the $7,000,000 appropriation for the San Mateo State college, although the bill had received "policy approval" from the Governmental Efficiency committee the week previous.

"Continue Fight"

"The only answer was to continue the fight in another direction," the San Mateo county senator said. "Brown has the power of silent veto over any senate money bill because of an ironclad procedural rule that only measures with the governor's endorsement can be considered ahead of his budget."

Since, as a practical matter senate bills must be out of committee on approximately June 6 in order to reach the assembly in time for committee consideration, the effect of the governor's refusal amounts to a veto, Dolwig declared.

The San Mateo senator amended S.B. 52 to remove the money appropriation which has prohibited the finance committee from considering it ahead of Governor Brown's budget—which had the effect of killing it this session.

Then he obtained an enthusiastic endorsement of a second amendment which directs the coordinating council to report to the 1964 general session of the legislature on the number, location, priority, and financing of state colleges needed.

Established

At this point Senator Eugene J. McAteer (D-San Francisco) queried council representative Warren Christopher as to when the council was established by the legislature.

Christopher, who opposed the amended bill, answered that it was established three years ago, in 1960.

McAteer then moved that the bill be given a do-pass recommendation to the full senate, and made the comment that he felt "educators" are too prone to want more study, when a decision is required.

Christopher had gone to the finance committee meeting apparently believing that the San Mateo college issue would be pigeonholed for this session, and spoke in vigorius opposition on grounds that he hadn't been informed ahead of time that the bill would be amended.

The co-ordinating council's recommendation at the meeting on May 7 was that no colleges be established this year by the legislature, and that the whole matter wait until an extensive restudy of the master plan for higher education could be completed for submission in 1965.

This could mean that no action would be taken until the 1967 general session of the legislature, if the study were not presented until late in the 1965 session, Senator Dolwig stated.

Senators on the committee were extremely critical of the coordinating council's failure to act upon the priority list of needed state colleges established by the state college board of trustees. San Mateo county was first on this list.

"I want to emphasize," Senator Dolwig said, "the fact that a complete study was submitted by the state college board of trustees staff, showing the San Mateo state college should be established now because of the 11 to 13 years lead time necessary for it to reach full utilization.

"Nothing the co-ordinating council has said thus far has refuted that finding.

"Now the council will have to do the home work it should have done last year," Dolwig continued "and the findings will be delayed only six months."

Dolwig noted the two assembly bills establishing a San Mateo county state college, one by Assemblyman Carl Britschgi (R-Redwood City), and another by Leo Ryan (D-South San Francisco), have been taken under submission by a special sub-committee in the lower house.

Bay Transit Bill Cleared

Legislation to clear the way for creation of a proposed West Bay Rapid Transit district on San Francisco's Peninsula was approved by the Senate Finance committee Thursday.

The bill, by Sen. Richard J. Dolwig, R-Redwood City, moved to the senate floor.

Dolwig said the district could eventually embrace the counties of San Mateo, Santa Clara and San Francisco but was amended to include initially only San Mateo county.

He said it may be a vehicle for Santa Clara and San Mateo to integrate into the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit district, which includes Alameda and Contra Costa counties.

Smith Wins Talk Award

Smith spoke on the benefits of membership in Toastmaster's International. Also speaking on the program were Max Cologna, Marshall Bloss and Merlin Porter.

The club observed its one-year anniversary, according to Porter, president. The club is open to all persons, seeking to improve themselves in public speaking. It meets at 7 a.m. on Thursdays in the Westlake library.

WINDOW BROKEN

CSM to Cut Tax Rate; Budget Up

A decrease of .0104 in the tax rate of the San Mateo Junior College district has been proposed for the 1963-1964 college year. The tentative budget, submitted for first study by the board of trustees at Wednesday night's meeting, shows a proposed tax rate for the coming year of .4376 per $100 of assessed valuation, a cut of more than a cent from the 1962-1963 rate of .4480.

In submitting the proposed budget, Superintendent Julio L. Bortolazzo stressed continuance of the statutory 35 cents operational tax rate for the junior college district, the only school district in the county using a basic tax within the statutory ceiling. In addition to the 35 cent operational tax, the recommended rate would include .0136 per $100 assessed valuation for retirement charges, down from the 1962-1963 rate of .0141; a community service rate of .0284, a sharp drop from the .05 rate of 1962-1963; a bond interest and redemption rate of .0456, a slight increase from the previous rate owing to cessation of interest earnings on bond funds.

General Fund

Ih the total general fund budget, the 1963-1964 proposal calls for $4,933,044, an increase of $71,763 over last year's general fund budget of $4,861,281. However, while the increase appears to be slight, transfer of funds to the special reserve will be $448,485 for 1963-1964, as compared to $1,378,712 for this past year; also, community service transfers for 1962-1963 accounted for $397,000.

For the major general fund category, that of estimated expense of education—which includes costs of instruction, administration, health services, transportation, fixed charges, and the operation and maintenance of the plant—the 1963-1964 estimate is $3,507,814, as compared to $3,055,171 in 1962-1963. Of the $452,643 increase in next year's budget, $449,739 is in the category of instruction. Twelve and a half instructor positions have been allowed for normal growth, twelve for new or expanded programs, such as the two-year degree nursing and electronics, and one additional librarian. The increase is required, in part, because of the expanded summer session offerings and by automatic salary progress on the existing schedules.

Reviews Cost

As background for the cost-of-education figure, the superintendent reviewed the comparative costs per student for California's junior college districts, a study which shows San Mateo ranking as one of the state's five lowest districts in per student costs. A measure of efficiency and economy of operation, the comparative figures for the most recent year, 1961-1962, showed that the San Mateo district's costs were $502.60. Significantly, the cost figure was less than the district's 1956-1957 figure of $507.38, despite rising costs of salaries, equipment, supplies, and services.

Also in the general fund operational budget is an increase of $247,817 for capital outlay, caused by the necessary initial supplies and equipment to accommodate new teaching stations at College Heights.

The preliminary budget proposes to complete the College Heights campus, to support the expanding educational program, and to continue the orderly execution of the district's master plan for facilities and services for the next decade. The superintendent emphasized the completion of the College Heights facility from the available bond funds, operational monies, and out-of-district tuition refunds. None of the money from the sale of the Delaware campus will be used for the new campus. Instead, the $2,251,600 will be used entirely for development of the future campuses.

The budget study schedule now calls for further review in the meeting of June 5 and adoption of the preliminary budget on June 12.

BURGLARY REPORTED

Valentine H. Witcher of 79 Parkview avenue reported to Daly City police last week that thieves had stolen earrings, two straight razors, money and a transistor radio, all valued at $74, from his home.

S.M. Crops to Suffer From Bracero Loss

Loss of bracero help will bring disaster to San Mateo county's $9 million agricultural industry, it was declared last week by growers who backed Congressman J. Arthur Younger in his vote to retain the bracero program.

"This will put us out of business," declared Gino Magri, president of the Half Moon Bay Growers' association and Frank Scuoteguazza, general manager, who declared that they have gone to great lengths to secure domestic help and have had no response.

"We get some help, but after one day they never come back," he declared, "they just cannot do this type of work. We must harvest the crops in wet weather as well as dry and the difficult working conditions of the field scare the local workers away," Scuoteguazza asserted, pointing out that they have covered the entire western United States to no avail.

Sprouts Group

Biggest threat by loss of braceros will be to the Brussels sprouts crop growers which employes 600 to 1000 braceros at the height of the crop's season.

Congressman Younger, from Washington Friday told the growers that all of the California delegation who favored retaining the program held a special meeting to work out strategy for restoring the bracero program or part of it for California. Talks were made on the floor of the house pointing to the huge losses that growers will take and the blow to the entire economy of the state if the program is halted.

Complete agreement ot the disastrous affects of the loss of bracero help on the San Mateo coastside was voiced by every farm leader, including Albert Adreveno, president of the San Mateo County Farm bureau, R. H. Sciaroni, University of California farm advisor to the county, Victor Canavese, San Mateo county agricultural commissioner and other individual growers.

Shock Told

Dolores Pompati, who for several years was with the California Department of Employment, farm labor division and now with the Half Moon Bay Growers declared that the shock to the growers was terrible. "There is no way we can harvest the crops without this help," she declared.

Canavese said it affects Brussels sprouts, peas, lettuce and other crops while Adreveno said it also hurts artichokes and flower growers as well.

Congressman Younger said he would keep in touch with the growers daily on progress of measures to re-establish some sort of program to avoid the catastrophy.

Le Trianon Resort for The Family Vacation

ENJOY YOUR VACATION at Le Trianon Resort on beautiful Blue Lakes, only three hours from the Bay Area. Here at an elevation of 1400 feet you will delight to swim in the clear, spring-fed lake and to fish for Rainbow trout, bass and bluegill. Fourteen hundres acres of wooded hills and fields provide plenty of space for outdoor activity. For your pleasure, a snack and drink bar, serving breakfast and lunches; daily outdoor barbecues in summer months; and cocktail lounge. The small swimmers have their own shallow roped-off beach. You may live in housekeeping cottages, your own trailer or camp. Hunters are welcome during the deer season . . . Rex Golobic, president of the Bowling Proprietors association, and 15 members held a luncheon meeting at Phil Lehr's downtown Steakery . . . George Minami, emcee and singing star at the Ginza West, colorful Japanese supper club, is an East Bay lad. Studied singing and dancing with Coralene Duane. He now lives in Hayward.

A BRIGHT, NEW COLLECTION OF ORIGINAL OIL PAINTINGS by Peninsula artist Edna Raney are now on display at the outstanding French restaurant, La Touraine, in Burlingame. According to maitre d' Andre Dumont, they may be purchased along with some of the finest cuisine this side of Paris. . . . Pancho's Mexican Cafe in Redwood City offers a good variety of Mexican dishes—including three types of enchiladas alone. Everything made with only the highest grade of choice meats. . . . Jackie Phillips, billed as "the zany redhead" at San Francisco's Finocchio Club, where he rates as a top comedian as a female impersonator, has been given a new nickname by Comic J. J. Van Dyke, who emcees Finocchio's revue on Lestra LaMonte's nights off each week. The new title is "wacky Jackie" and his wackiness sure does keep audiences roaring with laughter, which Joe Finocchio calls the "main product" of his club.

WENDEL EK, GENERAL MANAGER OF THE VILLA HOTEL, says weather is no problem at the Villa, as far as hotel guests are concerned. Most of them hail from parts where rain is an every day occurrence. So the "cool" days we have experienced lately seem like mid-summer to them. They dip in the pool sunshine or not. . . . Geary Leason has acquired the name of "Golf Bag" at his Big Al's Gashouse. How he finds time to play golf while overseeing a fast-moving operation like this, is a mystery. Geary works eight days a week on a 20-hour shift. But he finds time to sing out "Fore" in the a. m. . . . For a deliciously consistent Chinese dinner, the Ding Ho is a "bring the entire family" dinner house if there ever was one. . . . Weekend dancing at Frank and Fannie Torres' Montara Beach Hotel is an added delight to the dining hour. . . . The 15 feet by 15 feet dance floor at Jimmy and Richy Romanello's Morocco Cocktail Lounge never lacks for customers during the Thursday, Friday, and Saturday night dance sessions musically supplied by The Modernistics. . . .

SINGER ROBERT GOULET, one of America's hottest show business personalities, makes his Harrah's Tahoe debut Monday evening, June 3, when he opens a two-week engagement in the beautiful South Shore Room. Shows are scheduled for 8:15 p.m. and midnight each evening during Goulet's engagement. Goulet rocketed to fame in the Broadway production, "Camelot." As a special added attraction, Harrah's Tahoe will present the comedy team of Phil Ford and Mimi Hines. Completing the show will be Leighton Noble and his orchestra and the Moro-Landis Dancers. Headlining at Harrahs' Reno Show Lounge is Woody Herman and his orchestra. At Harrah's Stateline Lounge is Harry James and His Music-Makers, Billy Eckstine, and Jack Ross . . . Co-owner of Lake Tahoe's Crystal Bay Club, H. E. McCoskey, spent the weekend in New York on his way to Europe and remarked that the only place in New York where the "Price Is Right" is on NBC-TV. . . . "South Pacific," now in its fourth big month at the Las Vegas Thunderbird, probably will run through the Labor Day holiday with the new shows opening about four days after the present attraction closes. . . .

FRANK SINATRA'S CAL-NEVA LODGE officially opened the summer season at Lake Tahoe last Wednesday. The unique resort, spanning the California-Nevada border on the shores of Crystal Bay, is designed to afford guests the opportunity of enjoying the best of two great states in one luxurious location. A roster of the biggest names in show business is slated to appear during the season in night club revues and lounge acts. The talent parade was launched in the bar-lounge with comedian Mel Young, "the boy with a thousand faces"; inimitable madcap singer Kitty Kover and her combo, and the continental Elsa Bianchi Trio, fresh from a tour of Europes most famous winter playgrounds . . . Hundreds of patrons are enjoying the two fabulous buffets served in the food facilities of Harvey's Wagon Wheel, Lake Tahoe (South Shore). Featured every Friday, the Seafood Buffet, from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. in the Sage Room at $2.50 per person. Every Sunday, at the eleventh-story Polynesian Paradise, the "Top of the Wheel," overlooking beautiful Lake Tahoe, the Sunday brunch is served from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., at $1.75 per person.

Camel's Hump For a Sheik

Big mystery at the Mountain View Caravan Inn is the nightly appearance of a sheik dressed in desert costume. He drops in about 10 p.m., listens and looks at Kathy Halaas as she entertains at the pianobar, then takes off into the night. This has inspired general-manager Betty Sedam to name a drink in his honor, if he returns again. So, Sheik-ee, next time you stop by, don't hesitate to order a "Camel's Hump"—it's guaranteed to "straighten you out."

Keith's Chicken House policy: "Giant Buckets of Chicken" for Giants games. Try it on your next visit to the ballpark. Order a day ahead and enjoy it cold—deeelicious!

At Romano's Italian Pacifica restaurant, the other night, a woman patron, on her way to the powder room, almost opened the wrong door by mistake. She said good-naturedly: "This isn't even leap year and look where I'm going."

A policeman stopped Lew Lehr at Fifth and Market streets as Lew walked through a red "WAIT" light. Lew, noting that the green light hadn't changed, quick-witted: "Sorry, officer, I thought I was driving." No ticket.

Something new has been added to the martini at Rocca's restaurant, in San Francisco. It's a sliver of green pepper for use in stirring. It gives the drink added zip.

For pianobar entertainment thats different, enjoy the tunes of Gracie Frankel in the Fireplace Cocktail Lounge of Joes of Westlake. This Miss knows 'em all and plays 'em well.

South City Prize Winners

Hoo - ray for the South City Lions Club, who, according to Reno Donati, the New Southern restaurateur (he was there), won first prize for costumes during the recent convention at Hoberg's Resort. Also second prize in the Tail Twisting Contest (whatever that is) and second prize for an amateur show which included George Stagnaro and Reno. It was also mentioned during the dance that followed, that Mr. Donati, who is the Twist champion of the Peninsula, was voted the one most likely for the job of teaching any of the Lions, or their wives, how to do the Twist. Phone the New Southern Restaurant for an appointment.

Brentwood Lodge has one of the longest bars on the nitery beat. It's over 60-feet long and always crowded with afternoon or evening toasters.

The logs that blaze nightly in the huge cocktail lounge fireplace are cut to size by co-owner John "Paul Bunyan" Graziano, so I'm told.

Ben Franklin "Top Drawer"

The Benjamin Franklin Hotel certainly caters to the top trade. The sight of two Rolls Royces parked in front of this distinguished Third avenue hotel, the other afternoon, was cause for much curiosity. But how that Volkswagon wound up in the parking space between them is hard to explain. Reminded me of a hot dog between two loaves of French bread.

Theme for County Fair Is Chosen

Rrepresentatives of San Mateo county's agricultural community have voted to base all exhibits at the 29th annual county Fair and Floral Fiesta August 2-10 around the theme, "The Farm at the Fair," Area Grange Master Clarence Hynes of East Palo Alto announced last week.

The selection of the theme came as members of local granges and farm bureaus met with county Agriculture Commissioner Victor Canavese and Elmira Liebau, farm advisor of the Agricultural Extension service, at the county fairgrounds to plan the 1963 show.

According to Hynes; August 4 has been declared statewide Grange Day and will be celebrated with special activities at the Fiesta.

Fair Manager William M. Wilson said that again this year, all agricultural displays will be arranged around the Golden Gate produce terminal's feature exhibit.

"Our plans can take definite shape now," Wilson said, "because all exhibit space in the agriculture department has been filled.

Wilson introduced Mrs. S. C. Nelson of San Mateo as superintendent of the home economics building, and Michael Fox of Half Moon Bay as superintendent of the agricultural exhibits building. Fox and Mrs. Nelson will be in charge of exhibit entrees, placement and maintenance during the nine-day show.

"All of us who have participated in the fair's agricultural show have been more than pleased with the arrangements of our displays," Hynes said, "and the design plans for this year again are excellent."

Represented at the meeting were the Half Moon Bay Grange, Pescadero - San - Gregorio Farm Bureau, Woodside Gardeners, San Mateo county Farm Bureau Women, San Mateo county Farm Bureau, East Palo Alto Grange, Pescadero Grange, San Mateo county Pomona Grange, East Palo Alto Community Service committee, Half Moon Bay Growers association, Woodside Farm Bureau center and the William Cervenka One-Family Farm.

Local Club Hears Talk

Allen Jardine, of the California Chemical company, will speak to the Daly City Garden club, Tuesday, 8 p.m., at the War Memorial Community center, according to president William Huston Jr.

The club, which normally meets on the first Tuesday of the month, will also see a movie entitled "World of Insects."

A question and answer period is planned after the talk and movie, Huston said.

Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Albert Morris and Mrs. C. J. Dunow.

The meeting will be the last until September. During the summer vacation period some special tours will be planned, he said.

D.C. Principal Attends Session

Fred Schweickhardt, principal of George Washington school in Daly City, represented the San Mateo county Elementary Educators association at the annual leadership conference held by the Bay section of the California Elementary School Administrators' association.

The conference was held at Brookdale lodge in Santa Cruz county. Schweickhardt served as legislative chairman.

HURT IN FALL

Taissiya Buss, 64, of San Francisco, suffered a leg injury when he fell at San Jose avenue and Mission street over the weekend, Daly City police reported.

NEW LIFE!
AT GRACIOUS WEDGEWOOD MANOR

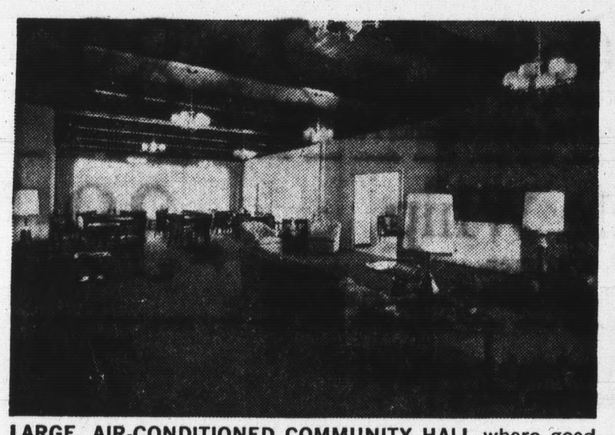
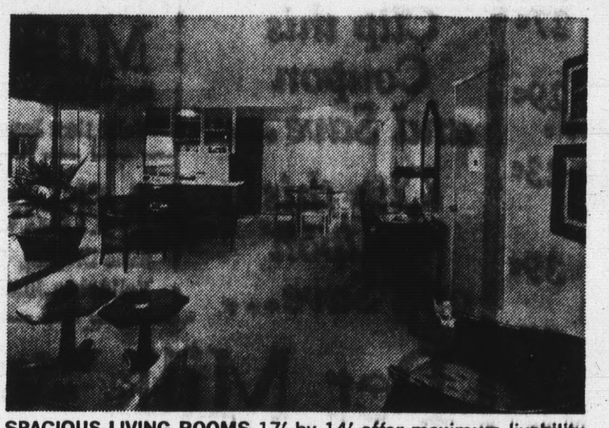
★ Ready for occupancy today!
★ Three plans to choose from: $12,700 to $18,200.

Now retire to gracious living in a beautiful new apartment home at Wedgewood Manor. Discover a new way of living . . . where the luxury and convenience of your close-in, superbly situated apartment home provides the additional comfort and security of owning it yourself.

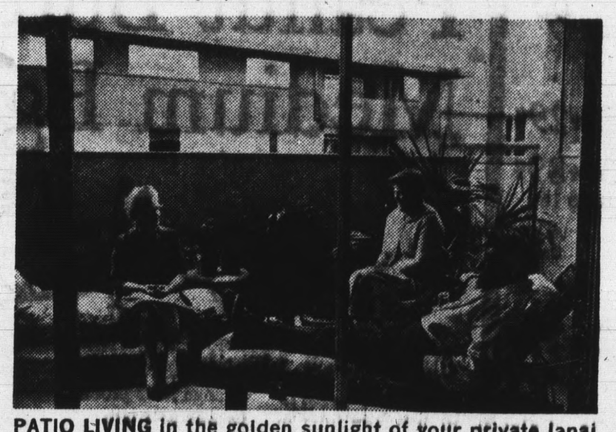


LARGE, AIR-CONDITIONED COMMUNITY HALL where good friends get together for dining, card playing, hobbies, and many other activities. Areas available for private parties, too.



SPACIOUS LIVING ROOMS 17' by 14' offer maximum livability at minimum cost. Draperies, wall-to-wall carpeting are included in the price of every apartment home.

MODERN KITCHENS embellish the plan you choose. General Electric, all-electric "step-saver" kitchens are the standard.



PATIO LIVING in the golden sunlight of your private lanai provides a life of quiet ease undisturbed by noisy traffic thoroughfares. Wedgewood Manor is situated on a rural cul-de-sac.

COME IN TODAY!

Wedgewood Manor is within easy reach of every community in the San Francisco Bay Area.
Drive out WINCHESTER BLVD. (the Santa Clara-Los Gatos Highway) to Pollard Road. Turn WEST to Wedgewood Avenue, past the entrance of La Rinconada Country Club to Lora Drive. Then continue right to the end of Lora Drive.
